

Established In 1869

"Let Us See To It That A Government of the People, for the People and by the People, Shall Not perish from the Earth."—A. LINCOLN.

TERMS: $1.00 Per Year

VOL. XXXIV

BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 25, 1903.

NO. 23

Sheriff's Posse Fought Fugitives

Bold Gang of Robbers Captured in the Wilds of the Seven Mountains.

ABOUT SIX SHOTS WERE FIRED

Four Outlaws Were Captured—One Seriously Wounded—Committed Countless Depredations in Different Parts of the County—Three of Them now in Jail and One in Bellefonte Hospital.

Saturday afternoon after an exciting chase across mountain and woodland and a skirmish in which one man was shot and badly wounded. Sheriff Hugh S. Taylor and his posse of fifteen men succeeded in capturing four men, who it is alleged belong to an organized gang of desperadoes who have been committing countless depredations in different parts of the county.

Beautiful Penns Valley was greatly excited over this gang of burglars who were on the rampage in that neck of woods. Early Saturday morning they attempted to break into the Penns Valley Bank at Centre Hall, scared the night operator at the telephone exchange there and later broke into Ross's store at Linden Hall. They also visited the cellar of one of Linden Hall's residents and helped themselves to an early morning lunch.

This is no doubt the same gang who assaulted and robbed of $15.75 Reno Zimmerman at Laurelton last Wednesday night. The same night they robbed the Laurelton Lumber Company's office, A. M. Reedy's clothing store, and the Laurelton hotel. They are described by Zimmerman as having a coarse voice and speaking with a German accent.

Sometime Thursday night the post office at Woodward, Centre county, was broken into and about $150 worth of stamps were taken. The post office is located in E. M. Wolfe's general store and Miss Mabel Belle Wolfe is the postmistress. Sometime during the night the burglars forced open the front door and gained an entrance. Besides taking the stamps they also stole five pair of shoes, two revolvers, two watches, three umbrellas and some old coins which the postmistress kept as relics. They made good their escape, the robberies not being discovered until the next morning.

Their next appearance in Penns Valley was at Centre Hall when they attempted to gain an entrance into the Penns Valley Bank at that place. This happened Saturday morning about 1 o'clock. Night Watchman Wm. McClenahan was awakened by hearing a peculiar noise. He finally ascertained that some one was attempting to pry open one of the bank windows. He fired a shot from his revolver which frightened the burglars away. Unfortunately he did not hit any of them. The burglars then started in the direction of the railroad station and as they passed the telephone exchange of the United Telegraph and Telephone Co., they either fired a shot or threw a stone through the Exchange window, badly frightening the night operator, Mrs. Annie Booser. There is a good sized hole in the window but no bullet could be found so the supposition is that it was a small stone that went through the window.

At the station the burglars broke open a tool house took possession of a hand car and proceeded to Linden Hall. The Post Office at Linden Hall is located in Ross's store and for this place they headed. A. E. Zeigler who clerks in this store sleeps there at night. He heard a noise about half past two o'clock but paid no attention to it at first thinking it some men who are employed on a lumber job for Mr. Ross, who were on their way to work and were trying the doors in order to frighten him. Hearing the noise again he got up and saw four men standing outside of the window talking. He made a noise which attracted their attention and they left.

Later they returned gained an entrance by prying open a window. They broke open the money drawer in the store and secured about a dollar in cash. Broke open the post office drawer but got only a few pennies. There was a dollar bill in the drawer which they failed to see. They were then preparing to blow open the safe in the office when they were alarmed by a noise and frightened away. In the meantime Mr. Zeigler was awakened the second time by hearing them, this time in the store, and hastened to call the proprietor, Mr. Ross. Mr. Zeigler saw the men distinctly. There were four of them and they were well dressed.

From Ross's store they went to the house of William Catherman, the blacksmith, broke into the cellar and helped themselves to whatever they wanted in the eating line.

The hand car which they took at Centre Hall was found Saturday at Oak Hall.

Bellefonte officers were telephoned to early Saturday morning from Centre Hall to be on the look out for the outlaws but they did not come this way.

A posse of officers was organized at Centre Hall and started in pursuit of the robbers. They had the description of the men as furnished by Mr. Zeigler. They soon got on the right trail and found themselves not fifteen minutes behind the outlaws. They were seen by a party of fishermen who gave the right clue.

The burglars, after leaving the railroad at Oak Hall, started across the fields to Earlestown where they were seen. They were later seen at Potter's

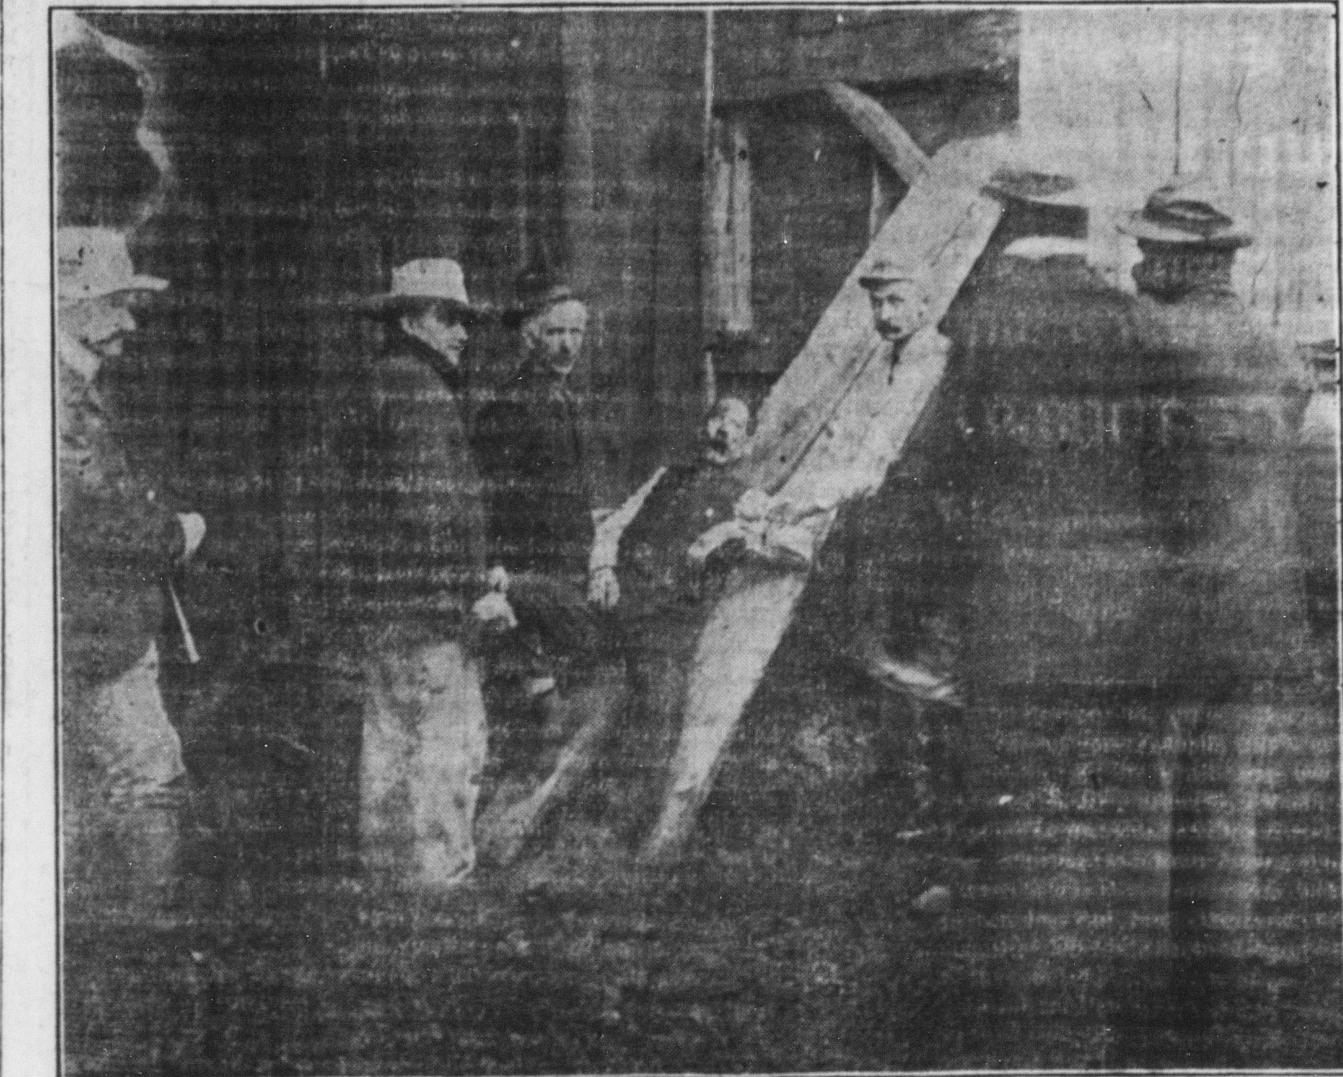

Three prisoners to the left. First William Palmer, facing front; James Ryan standing in front of Samuel Shireman. This view was taken in less than three minutes after the prisoners had been handcuffed. The trio endeavored to avoid the camera, and it was only by deception that the view was taken.

Mills and were evidently headed for Milroy.

Towards noon on Saturday Sheriff Taylor was telephoned to for assistance and he at once set about the capture of the fugitives. Before leaving Bellefonte he deputized County Treasurer Philip D. Foster, and the two after going to the armory and arming themselves, each with a Krag-Jorgeson rifle started in a two horse team for the scene of action. They left here at 11:45 a. m. and made the drive to Centre Hall in one hour. After learning the lay of the land the sheriff swore in two more deputies and started for Potter's Mills. When he got to that place he found that the men had been located in a barn on the old Faust Hotel property in the wilds of the Seven Mountains 3 miles from Potter's Mills. At Potter's Mills ten more deputies received the oath. Some were armed with rifles others with shot guns and pistols. The deputies were Philip D. Foster, Bellefonte; William Sandoe, Frank Shott, Frank Bradford, Centre Hall; Calvin Cummings, Colyer; Reuben Colyer, E. J. Sweetwood, Walter Gerrity, Pat Gerrity, Calvin Rhule, Frank Pennington, Frank A. Carson and Frank McCoy, of Potter's Mills.

The sheriff arrived at the barn at quarter of three. All was quiet, there was no sign of the robbers, but some hunters had seen four men enter the barn. Sheriff Taylor got out of his buggy and although unarmed entered the lower floor of the barn. He could see no one but he called out, stating his official position and demanded the surrender of the men in the name of the law. He then left the barn and ordered the men to surrender at once or they would be fired upon. He had previously stationed his men around the barn at intervals cutting off all avenue of escape. The sheriff waited almost a half hour, suddenly a hand was thrust through a crevice on the second floor of the barn. The hand held a revolver and it was pointed directly at Sheriff Taylor. It clicked but failed to go off. Instantly there were six shots fired by the deputies, the sheriff and Phil Foster being at 7:30 with his prisoners and they now repose behind the bars.

JAMES GELTWAIT, THE WOUNDED MAN. Two Planks were leaned against the side of the shed and on these the wounded man was slid to the ground, carried to a carriage and conveyed to the Potter's Mills Hotel and placed under the care of Dr. H. S. Alexander.

They gave their names and ages as follows: William Palmer, age 49, William Shirman, age 35 and James Ryan, age 32. The men look weather-beaten and rough. One is of Irish extraction while the other two have a German accent.

They refuse to say where they are from, in fact have very little to say at all. They gracefully submitted to having their pictures taken, and were lived up in the jail yard while photographer Mallory pressed the button.

Sheriff Taylor left two deputies, Frank McCoy and Walter Gerrity to search the barn where the prisoners had taken refuge. They found an oil skin pouch containing $167.44 worth of postage stamps, a watch, and two half pint bottles of nitro-glycerine. These they delivered to the Sheriff in Bellefonte Saturday at midnight.

The wounded robber gives his name as Getwalt and claims to hail from St. Louis. The ball which struck him is evidently from a Krag-Jorgenson rifle. It passed through his neck very close to the wind pipe. He lay all day Sunday in a front room on the second floor of the Potter's Mills Hotel.

The country about Potter's Mills was the Mecca for hundreds of people all day Sunday. The greatest excitement prevails there. The barn where the fugitives hid themselves, and the wounded burglar at the hotel, were gazed upon by hundreds of idle curiosity seekers.

Monday morning the Sheriff, accompanied by Dr. R. G. H. Hayes, drove to Potter's Mills with an ambulance. Dr. Hayes examined the prisoner and pronounced him able to be moved. He is believed to be on the way to recovery. He was placed in the ambulance and brought to Bellefonte, arriving here jail. Getwalt is a heavy-set man, about 49 years of age.

The wounded outlaw evidently intended to kill the Sheriff but his revolver failed to work. The revolver is in the possession of County Treasurer Phil Foster, who showed it to a REPUBLICAN reporter. By some defect in its mechanism it so happens that about every fourth or fifth shot it misses fire. The cylinder revolves but the hammer does not fall. To this fact, no doubt, Sheriff Taylor owes his life.

Sheriff Taylor and his men will come in for a nice reward if the four men are convicted of post-office robbery, as the government offers a reward of $100 for each person convicted of this crime.

These four men are evidently desperate characters and it is a fortunate thing for their fellow-countrymen that they are behind the bars.

They will probably be kept here until fall when they will likely be tried before the United States court at Williamsport.

Outs published by courtesy of the Centre Hall Reporter.

Attacked by Highwayman.

James Pates, of Altoona, was in the outskirts of that city Saturday night and at about 10:30 o'clock when he had gotten as far as Broad avenue and Twenty-seventh street on his return home he was approached by some man who hit him in the mouth and knocked him down and then went through his pockets. The highwayman secured a gold watch that Mr. Pates was carrying, all the money and other things he had in his pockets, and, in addition, a bundle that he had under his arm. As soon as he was through with the robbery the fellow disappeared. Two young ladies happened to be going home about the time the robbery took place and saw the whole thing.

Pates at once reported the affair to the police and he was sent by them to the hospital to have his injuries dressed. On his arrival there it was found that about 1:30 o'clock. He was taken to the hospital where his wounds were dressed and later he will be taken to he had a couple of teeth knocked out and that his lips were badly contused from the force of the blow. QQQ QQQ

SHERIFF HUGH S. TAYLOR.

OUR FREE OFFER!

The Bellefonte Republican Will Give Away to Some Church, Chapel or Sunday School a Hand-some Burdett Organ.

The publisher of the Bellefonte Republican has determined to give away absolutely free, to some deserving church, chapel or Sunday school in Centre county a hand-some Chapel organ. With this end in view he entered into a contract with M. C. Gephart the well known piano dealer of Bellefonte for the purchase of a "Burdett" Chapel organ, manufactured by the well known piano firm, the Hobart N. Cable Company of Chicago, Ill. The organ will be on exhibition in the store room of M. C. Gephart on South Allegheny street.

The Bellefonte Republican has decided to ask its patrons to select by vote as to what church, chapel or Sunday school shall have the organ. The method of voting is as follows:

Newspaper coupons—A blank ballot or coupon will be printed in each copy of the Bellefonte Republican and the name can be filled in same for whatever Church, Sunday school or religious organization you may want to vote. These votes should be sent into this office at once, as they will not be counted after they are six weeks old, and the date and number of each will appear on them.

Premium Coupons—Any persons who sends in a New Cash subscriber to this paper can get a Premium Coupon entitling him to four votes for each month paid or 50 for a full year. No subscriptions will be received for less than six months. Our regular subscribers by paying their subscription in advance will receive a Premium Coupon that will entitle them to 2 votes for each month paid 25 votes for a full year.

The following is the "Newspaper Coupon" cut it out and send it in with your choice written thereon.

(CUT THIS OUT.)

THE Bellefonte Republican
VOTING COUPON.

No. 2 | June 25, | 1903.

This Coupon entitles the holder to one vote for the handsome

BURDETT ORGAN
(Manufactured by the Hobart N. Cable Company, Chicago, and for sale in Bellefonte by M. C. Gephart.)
To be given away to some Church, Chapel or Sunday School by the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN.
Bellefonte, Pa.

This vote cast for

If this coupon is held longer than six weeks it will expire and cannot be counted. Send by mail or personally to this office and have it deposited in the ballot box.

A ballot box will be kept in this office under lock and key, where the votes can be deposited and will be counted each week by two judges and the result will be published regularly. The first count will take place July 1, and the contest will close October 31, at 6 o'clock p. m.

Hospital Notes.

Philip Welty, of Coleville, who was taken to the hospital Tuesday died Thursday morning.

Showalter or Getwalt as he now calls himself passed a very comfortable night Tuesday night. His condition is considered very encouraging by the hospital physician. Getwalt is the alleged burglar who was shot Saturday while resisting arrest by Sheriff Taylor and his posse at Potter's Mills.

Miss Unice Clark, one of the nurses has returned from her vacation which she spent at her home in Clearfield.

Thomas Beaver's Team Ran Away.

While loading a wagon with ore at the Curtin Ore bank on Tuesday, a team belonging to Thomas Beaver frightened and ran away. Mr. Adams, a colored resident of this place, was sitting on the seat on the wagon and he was thrown off, and the heavy wagon loaded with ore passed over his body. He was brought to Bellefonte and it was found that his left shoulder was very badly dislocated and he was hurt internally. The team was caught without any further serious damage.

RELIANCE HARD PUSHED

Defeated Constitution by Less Than Two Minutes.

COLUMBIA AGAIN OUTCLASSED

Race Between Leaders Was a Hot One, First One and Then the Other Getting the Better of It—Constitution May Win On Time Allowance.

New York, June 20.—If the Constitution did not defeat the Reliance on time allowance in a 25-mile race over the course of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club on Long Island Sound, she gave the admirers of the new boat a bad scare. In more than four hours of sailing the Reliance outlasted Constitution by only one minute and 50 seconds, elapsed time. It is estimated that the new boat will have to allow the Constitution two to three minutes in a 30-mile race, which if true would give the race to the older boat and might give her one of the earlier races as well, when Reliance beat her by two minutes and a fraction.

Columbia was again outclassed from the start. Her gain of about 12 minutes on the second leg of the race was time wasted by the other boats in a luffing match.

Between the leaders the race was hotly contested, first one and then the other getting the better of it by sudden shifts of wind, which when it began to blow steadily left the Reliance about one minute ahead.

The Constitution's fast sailing was all the more remarkable and makes her all the more formidable from the fact that the race was sailed in light winds and smooth water, under which conditions the Reliance has often beaten her.

The course was a triangle, 10 miles across the Sound, five miles over to the Connecticut shore and 10 miles along that shore to the finish line.

Once across the line, the Constitution was fairly blanketed by the Reliance and forced to keep off while the Reliance quickly worked a few hundred yards to windward of her, Columbia split tacks with the others and was never in company with them afterward. After half an hour, during which time they had worked off into the middle of the Sound, the Reliance, having the right of way, essayed to cross the Constitution's bow, but failed. An hour after the start she accomplished it, but a few minutes later the wind backed to northeast and gave the Constitution the lead.

They turned the first mark almost side by side and with the wind hauling to the southwest started to reach five miles to the next turn. A hot luffing match for the windward position ensued. Captain Barr had no sooner luffed the Reliance from under the Constitution's lee than the wind shifted and he had to do it all over again. They fought it out for half an hour and it carried them far off their course; but the Reliance finally shook off her rival, and they sailed away for the turn, with the new boat leading by a few hundred yards and more than a minute and a half at the turn.

The summary:

	Start.	Finish.	Time.
Reliance	12:46:07	4:50:24	4:04:17
Constitution	12:46:10	4:52:17	4:06:07
Columbia	12:46:52	5:03:40	4:16:54

APPLICANTS FOR PRINCETON

This Year's Number Will Break All Records For Admission.

Princeton, N. J., June 20.—The registrar of Princeton University has given out a report on the entrance examination papers, which shows that there are 215 applicants for admission to the academic department and 283 for the scientific, with seven places yet to be heard from. The figures stand 498 against 441 last year, and the probability is that the number will exceed 510, which breaks all records for admission in former years. For the first time in the history of the university the scientific department leads in the number of entrance applications. Last year the figures stood: Academic, 229; scientific, 212. Gains are noticed in all the larger schools in the east, south and middle west.

Textile Strike to Be Called Off.

Lowell, Mass., June 20.—The general strike of the textile operatives in all probability will be officially declared off by the textile council at the meeting of that organization tomorrow. Meantime unions affiliated with the central body of cotton mill operatives will hold special meetings. The strike leaders still maintain, however, that the settlement of the difficulties is just as far off as ever and declare that a false construction has been placed on their message to manufacturers.

HOOD'S PILLS cure Liver Ills, Biliousness, Indigestion, Headache. Easy to take, easy to operate. 25c.

"It"

Is the New and Better Breakfast Food, so different from all others that it pleases everybody. Get a package to-day at your grocers.

THE GENUINE PURE FOOD CO., LE ROY, N. Y.

THE CARNIVAL—JUNE 20.

It Will Be a Big One and Bring Plenty of Visitors Here.

It is hard to estimate the vast amount of good a properly conducted carnival or street fair does the town in which it is held. It attracts to the town a great number of visitors and strangers who are out for a good time, and who spend money freely to have it. This results in the leaving of large amounts of money with the business people of the place. It also advertises a town as nothing else will and gives its merchants and manufacturers an exceptionally good opportunity, in the industrial display, to show their wares and products. It brings the people together in a good natured, happy concourse thereby increasing their harmonious relations and good fellowship generally. In selecting the great Hatch Adams carnival aggregation as the amusement feature for the coming carnival in this town, week of June 29, the Undine Fire Company showed wise foresight and discretion. Its attractions will consist only of new and novel shows which have not been seen in this country before. It will be a collection of novelties, about a dozen different and distinct attractions, each in an individual tent containing something of unusual interest or special amusement. Among them will be:

The Beautiful Orient—A collection of natives from Asia in their quaint garbs.

Amusements—Shooting gallery, cane racks, bead workers, fortune tellers, magic, etc.

Japanese Theatre—Native actors and agile acrobats, who are artists in their line.

Electric Theatre—Showing all the remarkable electric inventions, of modern times, illustrating how man has harnessed this subtle force to do his bidding.

For Ladies—A special attraction for the fair sex, to which no man will be admitted.

22 Illusions—All are of great beauty and mystifying, a place that furnishes pleasure and instruction.

Balloon Ascension—Is promised for every day, in which there will be the customary parachute drop.

These are only a few of the leading features. It would require a column to enumerate other equally meritorious attractions.

A Letter Worth $12,500

A novel incident happened the other day at the meeting of the National Liberal Federation at Scarborough in England. A prominent Liberal, Mr. John P. Thomason, sent a subscription of $12,500 to the campaign fund, on condition that, when the resolution in favor of "one man, one vote" was under consideration, the president should read to the meeting a letter from him in behalf of the ballot for women. The president said he would gladly read any number of letters on those terms. Accordingly, when a resolution was moved in favor of manhood suffrage, the abolition of plural voting, and other reforms said to be needed in order that the House of Commons might "contain a more effective representation of all classes," the president read out Mr. Thomason's vigorous utterances. He wrote in part:

"My object is to protest against a sex qualification as repugnant to the principles of justice. Gladstone said that 'justice is the rarest of all virtues, the most precious, the least valued.' If Parliament passed laws restricting women's right to labor, to the custody of their children, and lays down conditions of marriage and divorce which they are bound to obey, justice demands that women shall have a voice in the passing of those laws."

Mrs. Swan, of Bristol, supported the resolution in the name of the women's Liberal Federation, and said the women were united in their desire for electoral privileges. Miss Garland, of Plymouth, said she would not waste time in preaching to the converted. The Liberal women would help the men at the next election, if they would go for "one man, one woman, one vote." This was received with cheers, and the resolution was at once adopted.

ETHEL C. AVERY.

A Helpless Invalid Immersed in a Creek.

There was a unique baptism near Beaver Dam, in Penns valley, Centre county, on Wednesday. Mrs. Richard Dunlap, a helpless invalid, was immersed in Penns creek by Dunkard ministers who came to Penns valley from Millfin county. Mrs. Dunlap has been an invalid for years, being unable to leave her chair. Seated in her chair she was carried to the creek and lowered into the water to a convenient depth, when the chair was tipped forward, permitting her body to be completely immersed.

Cornwauville Editor Injured.

R. H. Brainard, editor and publisher of the Cornwauville Review and postmaster at that place, had his right arm crushed below the elbow Thursday while engaged around the engine in the Review office. His friends will regret exceedingly that the injury is so serious that it may necessitate the amputation of the arm.

GRAND CHIEF OF THE K. G. E.

Bellefonte and Milesburg members of the Knights of the Golden Eagle were honored Thursday by a visit from one of the orders high officials. We refer to Grand Chief of the Grand Castle of Pennsylvania, Benton Patterson of Allegheny City. Mr. Patterson paid this office a fraternal visit Thursday afternoon in company with Sir Knight A. Lokenbach and we found him a most pleasant and agreeable gentleman to meet on any occasion.

The chief object of Sir Knight Patterson's visit to Centre county was to inspect the Milesburg Castle, K. G. E., which he did Thursday evening. Quite a number of Bellefonte Knights accompanied him to Milesburg leaving here at 7:30 p. m. In the party were the following named gentlemen: District Grand Chief A. Lokenbach, Wm. P. Kuhn, A. C. Mingle, D. Benton Tate, L. H. Wian, E. E. Ardrey, Thomas Hazel, Jacob Marks, Charles Larimer, Bert Bathurst, L. H. Gettig, Harry Johnson, John H. Woomer, J. Kennedy Johnston, Harry D. Gehret and Harry Raymond.

The visitors were very cordially received by the Milesburg Knights. Speeches were made by quite a number of the brothers and a very pleasant evening was passed.

10 Story Book for July.

With the summer months the publishers of 10 Story Book show no lack of energy in securing live stories for their popular little magazine. The leader for the July number is by Cate's Hyne, the famous English writer of sea mysteries. It is the latest thing from this gifted author's pen, and is a powerful narrative entitled "The woman in the wizen-top" describing a weird and blood-stirring incident of romance, passion and terror on a tempest-wrecked vessel that is being torn asunder on the reefs of a surging ocean. Gertrude Potter Daniels, the society woman whose sensational ventures in smart set literature have caused so much talk, has a story called "The Pink Tea Plot." It is a good one. A breeze skit by M. Quid called "Engaged to Hannah," is decidedly funny. "The Demoniacal Revenge," of Kenneth Harris is entirely different, as the name suggests. It deals in shivers and dread possibilities.

Ex-Congressman Hinrichsen, with "A joke on Bobby," is almost Frenchy, but then again he isn't. The selected masterpiece is Charles Reade's delightful story "The Box Tunnel." (Daily Story Publishing Company, Chicago.)

School Teachers' Salaries.

School teachers for next season will not come under the new law adopted by the last legislature making the minimum salary of all the teachers of the state in districts that receive the state's aid $35 per month. Many have been under the impression that the bill became effective this year and that teachers who began this fall would receive the benefit of it.

The following is the law:

"Sec. 1. That on and after the first day of June, 1904, the minimum salary of school teachers in the public schools in this commonwealth shall be $35 per month.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the president and secretary of the school board of each district in this commonwealth to make report under oath to the superintendent of public instruction that the requirements of this act have been fully complied with.

Sec. 3. Every school district of this commonwealth failing to comply with the requirements of this act shall forfeit its state appropriation for the whole time during which this act has been violated."

Death of Jeffrey Hayes.

One of the oldest citizens of Philadelphia died at the home of his son William, at Point Lookout, Tuesday morning at 4:30 o'clock. He had been ill for the past three months, but took his bed only two weeks ago. Heart trouble and infirmities incident to old age were the cause of his death. The deceased was born in England, but came to this country about 45 years ago, and lived in Philadelphia for 33 years. He was aged 76 years, 2 months and 4 days. His wife preceded him to the grave 6 years ago. He is survived by three sons and three daughters, viz: Mrs. Samuel Oswald, Mrs. John Oswald, Mrs. John Maddox, John William and Charles, all of Philadelphia. The funeral took place Thursday afternoon.

The mother who would be horrified at the thought of letting her daughter wander away to a strange country without guide or counsel, yet permits her to enter that unknown land of womanhood without counsel or caution. Then in utter ignorance, the maiden must meet physical problems whose solution will affect her whole future life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been well named a "God-send to women." It corrects irregularities and imparts such vigorous vitality to the delicate womanly organs, as fits them for their important functions. Many a nervous, hysterical, peevish girl has been changed to a happy young woman after the use of "Favorite Prescription." It has established the sound health to the organs peculiarly feminine.

Every woman should own a copy of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. The same book of 1008 pages in substantial cloth for 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE GRANGE

Conducted by J. W. DARROW,
Press Correspondent, New York State Grange.

PROFESSOR T. C. ATKESON.

Master of the West Virginia State Grange.

Thomas Clark Atkeson, master of the West Virginia state grange, grew up on the farm. His work for the grange in that state has been most valuable, and he has been honored with several important offices in his state grange. He was elected assistant steward of the state grange in 1882, secretary in 1883, lecturer in 1884, overseer in 1888, which office he held continuously until elected master of the state grange in January, 1897; re-elected in February, 1899, and January, 1901. As a member of the state grange legislative committee he prepared the bill creating the state board of agriculture, was appointed a member of the board April 1, 1891, and has been continuously reappointed.

PROFESSOR T. C. ATKESON.

He was elected professor of agriculture at the West Virginia university in July, 1891, which position he filled for two years. In June, 1896, he was unanimously elected president of Barbourville college, which he resigned in June, 1897, to accept his present position. Governor Atkinson appointed him a member of the board of regents of West Virginia university in May, 1897, for a term of six years, and in June following he was elected dean of the college and professor of agriculture, which position he now holds.

A SUGGESTIVE PLAN.

To Promote Interest in Grange Work and Increase Membership.

Sometimes it seems to be necessary to introduce new methods for awakening a flagging interest in grange attendance and grange work. While contests between members or committees may not always be commendable, yet so good an authority on grange work as Mrs. Sarah G. Baird, master of Minnesota state grange, has recommended the following, which was tried with good results in a Minnesota grange:

Two ladies chose sides as in a spelling match. The contest lasted three months, with two meetings each month. The side beaten furnished a good supper. The secretary acted as umpire and remarked that care must be taken not to do anything which would cause the members to get too much credit or be offended. The sides alternated in furnishing a programme, each having a chance to score a maximum of 100 points at one meeting. In addition to this, the attendance of each person at a meeting counted 10. The side which had the most at roll call got 30. The roll was called at 8:30 p. m. An application counted 60. An essay counted 25; a crop report by a farmer counted 20. He could secure four men to speak on it with a credit of 5 points each. In a similar manner a lady could write an essay and secure four ladies to discuss it. Select reading counted 10, a recitation 15, a dialogue 20, a wedding 100. This contest brought sixty-five applications for membership. The plan can be varied to suit conditions.

A member who countenances the abuse or ill treatment of dumb animals is liable to suspension or expulsion from the Order. Did you know it, reader?

Hon. A. C. Barrett, overseer of the Pennsylvania state grange, is chairman of committee on agriculture of the Pennsylvania legislature.

Little Falls (N. Y.) grange has over 400 members, and 100 have been received since Jan. 1, 1903. That's a good record.

You can always find some one to agree with you even if your conclusions are not complimentary to yourself.—Atchison Globe.

Impaired Digestion

May not be all that is meant by dyspepsia now, but it will be if neglected. The uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, sourness of the stomach, and disagreeable belching may not be very bad now, but they will be if the stomach is suffered to grow weaker.

Dyspepsia is such a miserable disease that the tendency to it should be given early attention. This is completely overcome by which strengthens the whole digestive system

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Time seems most untimely when he brings a woman to the turn of life. Life is or should be at its ripest and best for her, and she approaches this change with a dread of its effect born of her knowledge of the sufferings of other women at this season.

There is not the slightest cause for fear or anxiety at this period if Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is used. It gives health of body and cheerfulness of mind, and by its aid the pains and pangs of this critical period are prevented or cured.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is woman's medicine with a wonderful record of cures of womanly diseases. Diseases that all other medicines had failed to cure, have been perfectly and permanently cured by the use of "Favorite Prescription."

"I feel it my duty to write you as I have received so much benefit from the use of your medicine," says Mrs. Lizzie A. Bowman, of New Matamoras, Washington Co., Ohio. "I have taken four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' for female weakness and change of life. Before I began taking it I could not do anything. I had such pains in my head and in the back of my neck that I thought I would lose my mind. Now I can work every day. I recommend 'Favorite Prescription' to all females suffering in the period of change of life. It is the best medicine I have found."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Keep the bowels healthy by the timely use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Atkeson

We have started over three thousand boys in various parts of the country in a profitable business on their own account. We want a boy to represent

The Saturday Evening Post

In every town. The work can be done after school hours and on Saturdays. It is pleasant, as well as profitable. The magazines are sold among neighbors and friends in offices, stores, as well as in homes.

No Money Required to Begin
The first week's supply is sent free. These are sold at five cents a copy and provide the money to order the following week at wholesale prices.

$225.00 IN EXTRA CASH PRIZES who sell five or more copies.

Our Free booklet gives portraits of some of our most successful agents and their methods.

The Curtis Publishing Co.
435 Arch Street
Philadelphia

Teething

Then the baby is most likely nervous, and fretful, and doesn't gain in weight.

Scott's Emulsion is the best food and medicine for teething babies. They gain from the start.

Send for a free sample. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409-415 Pearl Street, New York. 50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Atkeson

Burgess Enforces Sunday Laws.

Burgess Reuben Brouse of Northumberland, is just enforcing the Sunday observance laws in that town with a vengeance.

Soon after taking the oath of office he made it known that he was opposed to the sale of cigars, tobacco, newspapers and every thing else on Sunday and that he would take vigorous steps to stop such practice in the future. Sunday was the first day the new order went into effect and so completely was the mandate of the chief executive observed that the town was deadlier than a door nail. All cigar stores, confectionery shops, soda water fountains and all drug stores were closed the entire day. Even the sale of newspapers on the streets was prohibited and the newsdealers did not open their bundles of city papers. So completely was the law observed that one prominent resident said Monday that he went to Sunbury to breathe.

NEW LIBRARY FOR STATE.

Ground Broken for Carnegie Library—Cost $150,000.—Brief Description.

Ground was broken a few days ago for the new library building to be erected at Pennsylvania State College. The building is a gift of Andrew Carnegie and is to cost $150,000.

The contractors are Messrs. George F. Payne & Co., Philadelphia, who also had the contract for the building of the auditorium presented by Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Schwab.

The design of the library is simple but effective and especially considered with reference to the needs of the institution for which it is provided. The ground plan is about 100x25 feet and the building contains practically three stories. The basement, which will be mostly above ground, will contain the heating and ventilating apparatus, a large room for the filing and storage of newspapers, magazines, etc., a large study hall, a room for the bindery, janitors' rooms, toilet rooms, and a large packing room from which a lift will carry books directly to the cataloguing room on the first floor.

The first floor will contain a spacious central reading room with alcoves for special libraries and for other uses on each side, together with the librarian's room, cataloguing room, ladies' study, etc. The third floor will be occupied almost exclusively by seminars for the different departments, and the principal seminars will be connected by an inside staircase with the corresponding department libraries immediately beneath them.

Back of the main structure, and connected with it by a single opening, will be the stackroom, four stories high. Only a portion of this part of the building will be erected at present, but this will be designed in such a way as to provide for extension to meet the future growth of the library and it is intended ultimately to construct a large art gallery and memorial hall over the stackroom, when extended. The building is under contract to be completed not later than April 1st, 1904, and is to be dedicated in the course of that month.

LOW RATE TO DENVER.

Via Pennsylvania Railroad. Account Christian Endeavor Convention.

For the benefit of delegates and others desiring to attend the Twenty-first International Biennial Convention of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, to be held at Denver, Col., July 9 to 13, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will run a personally-conducted tour to Denver and return, leaving Philadelphia, Lancaster, Harrisburg, Altoona, and Pittsburgh and intermediate stations Tuesday, July 7, going via Chicago and arriving Denver Thursday, July 9. Returning, the tour will leave Denver Thursday, July 16, arriving Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, and intermediate stations Saturday, July 18. Special trains of the highest grade of Pullman equipment will be run on a fast schedule. Each train will be in charge of a tour agent, chaperon, and special uniformed baggage master. Round-trip rate, covering transportation to Denver, Colorado Springs, or Pueblo and return, Pullman berth, and all necessary meals in dining car and from Denver, will be as follows: Philadelphia, $71.25, two in one berth, $69.25 each; Lancaster, $69.25, two in one berth, $59.35 each; York, $67.50, two in one berth, $57.50 each; Harrisburg, $67.25, two in one berth, $57.25 each; Altoona, $64.50, two in one berth, $55.00 each; Pittsburgh, $58.00, two in one berth, $49.50 each. Round-trip rate, covering all necessary expenses on going trip and railroad transportation only returning, on regular trains until August 31, will be as follows: Philadelphia, $57.25, two in one berth, $51.72 each; Lancaster, $56.35, two in one berth, $51.10 each; York, $54.50, two in one berth, $49.50 each; Harrisburg, $54.25, two in one berth, $49.25 each; Altoona, $52.50, two in one berth, $47.75 each; Pittsburgh, $47.50, two in one berth, $43.35 each. Proportionate rates for other points. Pullman accommodations and meals are included only while tourists are using special trains. Special side trips from Denver at reduced rates. For reservations of space, tickets, and full information, apply to nearest Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent, or direct to Geo. W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, Pa.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous services.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. A. CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Base Fishing Opened June 15th.

The bass fishing season in this state opened Monday, June 15th. According to local anglers, who visit the haunts in the Bald Eagle, the coming season will be the best in years. Last season there were many bass but few were caught, in view of the fact that they fed on the seventeen-year locusts, which were in abundance throughout the country. This alone has allowed the fish to grow in numbers as well as in size.

E. P. IRVIN.

L. C. IRVIN

“THE RACKET.”

You Can Do Better At The Racket=They Sell For Cash.

Refrigerators,
Screen Doors,
Window Screens,

Ice Cream Freezers,
Porch Shades,
Croquet Sets,

Some Seasonable Suggestions:

Parasols,
Fans,
Summer Dress Goods:
India Linen,
Madras,
Silk Muslin,
Wool Batiste,
Reade's Lawnsdowne.
Ribbons:
Taffeta,
Liberty Satin,
Louisine,
Moire.

Buy at "THE RACKET" and Save Time and Money.

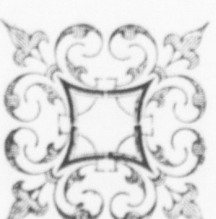

Laces:
Cluny,
Maline,
Vals, Etc.
White and Black Gloves,
Pearl Waist Sets,
Bead Neck Charms,
Belts,
Wool and Silk Shawls,
Habutai Wash Silk.
Shetland Floss for Knitting
Shawls.
Swiss Embroideries.

RACKET STORE CO.

Music Issued Free Every Thursday to Subscribers of The Bellefonte Republican.

JOLLY FELLOW MAZURKA

Music by W. BOYCE.

Music Supplement of THE BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN, Thursday, June 25, '03

JOLLY FELLOW MAZURKA.

W. BOYCE.

Tempo di mazurka.

The first system of the musical score consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. The key signature has one flat (B-flat). The time signature is 3/4. The music begins with a forte (ff) dynamic. The upper staff features a melody with eighth and sixteenth notes, while the lower staff provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and single notes. The system concludes with a double bar line.

American Melody Co., N. Y. Copyright 1921.

The second system of the musical score continues the piece. It begins with a sempre, pp (pianissimo) dynamic marking. The melody in the upper staff continues with various rhythmic patterns, including triplets. The lower staff continues its accompaniment. The system ends with a double bar line. Below the system, the text "D.C. al Fine" is written.

Jolly Fellow Mazurka.

The Bellefonte Republican

The Best Advertising Medium in Central Pennsylvania.

A forty-eight column paper devoted to the interests of the Republican party. Published at Bellefonte, Pa., at $1.00 per annum. By EARLE C. TUTEN.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

SPACE OCCUPIED.	3m	6m	1y
One inch (12 lines this type).....	$5	$8	$12
Two inches.....	10	15	20
Three inches.....	15	22	30
Four inches.....	20	30	40
Quarter column.....	12	18	24
Half column.....	20	30	40
One column.....	35	50	65

All advertisements, whether displayed or blank lines, measured by lines of this type. All advertisements due after the first insertion. Special notices inserted in our local columns at 20 cents per line for each insertion unless otherwise agreed, by the month, quarter or year. Editorial notices, in our local columns, 25 cents per line for each insertion. Professional or Business Cards, not exceeding 10 lines this type, $5 per annum. All advertisements for a less term than three months 20 cents per line for the first three insertions, and 5 cents per line for each additional insertion. Advertisers, and especially Advertising Agents, are respectfully informed that no notice will be taken of orders to insert advertisements at less rates than the above, nor will any notice be given to orders of parties unknown to the publisher, unless accompanied by the cash.

EARLE C. TUTEN.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

AUDITOR GENERAL.

WILLIAM P. SNYDER, Chester.

STATE TREASURER.

WILLIAM L. MATHUES, Delaware.

JUDGES OF SUPERIOR COURT.

JOHN J. HENDERSON, Crawford.

THOMAS A. MORRIS, McKean.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

JURY COMMISSIONER.

JOHN D. DECKER, Potter Township.

EDITORIAL.

ROOSEVELT'S LATEST.

At Tacoma when several Senators at a dinner criticised the President facetiously for disregarding the wishes of Senators in distribution of patronage, the President suddenly replied with great emphasis; "That's all right; that's all right; but I want this understood. I would like to be President again, but I would far rather be a whole President for three years than half of a President for seven years. Remember that."

DEMANDS DOLLAR WHEAT.

The American Society of Equity, organized at Indianapolis to maintain higher prices for farm products by co-operation of farmers, issued a bulletin demanding higher prices for wheat and urging farmers not to sell under $1.00 a bushel. It advises them, of running up a surplus, which must eventually compel lower prices.

NO CHANCE FOR ARGUMENT.

"The next presidency is already settled," says Senator Proctor, of Vermont, and he is undoubtedly only echoing the sentiment of all observing men in all political parties. The Republican party is compactly united on President Roosevelt for a second term, while the Democratic party is hopelessly split in two; with not the slightest or most remote prospect of a reunification of the two factions on any one candidate in the entire category of Democrats of presidential size.

The nomination by the Republican convention of a candidate for vice president is the only thing remaining to be settled, and that will not be attended to until the convention assembles. Roosevelt will be easily elected, for labor troubles cannot apply to him, and England's agitation in favor of protection kills the tariff issue here save to confirm the American policy.

SERBIAN BRUTALITY.

This busy old world of ours, struggling up from primitive savagery into the higher ideals of twentieth century civilization, has heard with a certain new sense of shame the tale of plotted butchery and brutality at Belgrade—grim reminder of the violence once common to all. For however "poetic" the bloody justice meted to Alexander, last of the Obrenovitch dynasty, to his pretentious spouse, Draga, and their supporters, in view of the wretched abuses of power, the inhumanity and ferocity of the method lay bare the latent weakness and cruelty of the Serbian people burdened with a standing army of 100, 000, or equal to all the children in the schools.

Whatever the virtue of King Peter, the newly proclaimed scion of the Karageorgevitch dynasty, the manner of his coming may be expected to set some of his people thinking, and it has proved a warning to all of the monarchs of Europe. The Albanian troops guarding the Sultan imitated the Belgrade revolt, but they were suppressed with some loss.

AS TRUE AS GOSPEL.

Pennsylvania is a commercial State, in the sense that the larger attention is given to manufactures and commerce—little to heroism or to personal greatness. It is the truth, and a sad one. Governor Pennypacker, in speaking on this subject at the recent commencement of Franklin and Marshall College, said:

"Pennsylvania will never have a great General—and she has had more Generals than any other state in the Union," continued the Governor. "She will never have a great poet—and right over here, alongside of you was born Thomas Buchanan Read, whom the English critics placed on a pedestal above Longfellow; she will never have a great statesman—and she has produced them in numbers—until the people behind them recognize the fact when the man appears among them."

"How is it worth any man's while to fight a great battle like that of Gettysburg, the greatest battle of all modern times, one of the greatest in its consequences that ever occurred in the world, when a great soldier like George G. Meade, after having won that battle and decided the fate of this nation and ended that war, is forgotten at his own home?"

"How is it worth a man's while to write a poem, as Read did, that ought to go down to the ages, when the people around him will turn away from him and waste their sympathy upon the story of 'Evangeline,' as tamely presented by a Longfellow? And so it is with everything. And so it is with your statesmen."

This is so true that it ought to sting every Pennsylvanian. Our State belittles its great ones, instead of promoting. It has ever been true; but, go far away, to Arizona, and stay away for awhile; go anywhere so that intelligent comparisons can be made—free from commercial or political rivalry, and Pennsylvania looms up above all the rest. We have in our travels seen hundreds of men who confess the fact, and who were surprised that it was a fact. Governor Pennypacker was right in this, and his views will win the approval of thoughtful minds.

The Centre Reporters Enterprise.

The Bellefonte Republican is indebted to Editor S. W. Smith, of the Centre Reporter, for the pictures in this issue of the capture of the four burglars in the Seven Mountains last Saturday. These are the only genuine pictures of the event and Editor Smith showed his enterprise by following the sheriff's posse armed with a camera thus securing on the spot pictures of this exciting event.

Children's Day Services.

The entire services in the Presbyterian church at Milesburg on Sabbath last were given to the Sabbath School. In the morning the pastor, Rev. W. F. Carson, delivered a very interesting and instructive sermon appropriate to the occasion, taking the youthful life of David as the basis for his remarks. At 7:30 p. m. the regular Children's Day services were held and were deeply interesting and thoroughly enjoyed by the very large congregation present, the church being literally packed to the doors. The music by choir as also that by the children of the school was very finely rendered and the recitations by the scholars, big and little, most creditably delivered. A brief but very happy talk by the pastor, singing of the doxology by the congregation, and the benediction by Rev. Carson brought to a close a most successful Children's Day entertainment.

Memorial Service.

Through the courtesy of the Trustees of Messiah church (4 miles north of Milesburg,) Bald Eagle Grange No. 151 will hold their annual Memorial Service in said church at 2 p. m. on Sunday the 28th inst. The Rarville and Marsh Creek Sabbath School and the public are invited.

MRS. M. M. WEAVER, Sec'y.

SECOND ANNIVERSARY.

Of the Pastorate of Rev. G. Stanley West at Blanchard.

Sunday June 21st was the second annual anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. G. Stanley West which was observed in the Baptist church at Blanchard. The house was literally packed so that even standing room was unobtainable.

The program consisted of a short address by the pastor and the rendering of the beautiful cantata "The Two Ways." The progress of the little church since Rev. West's ministry commenced is phenomenal. There has been over a thousand dollars expended for church improvements and there have been one hundred and twenty-five additions to the membership of the church. This is unprecedented in annals of church work at Blanchard.

In addition to the church work, Rev. West has been the means of building a Young Men's Christian Association at a cost of Twelve hundred dollars with a fine reading room and gymnasium and expects to more fully equip the latter in the near future. To this end he is touring the county lecturing on Wilson Barrett's beautiful story "The Sign of the Cross," in order to liquidate a debt of four hundred dollars which is all that remains on this Y. M. C. A.

The work is commendable and is worthy of support.

Children's Day at Scotia.

Sunday June 21st was a religious gala day in the Methodist Episcopal church at Scotia. It marked the passing of Children's Day. The pastor Rev. Eslinger certainly can feel proud of the little flock he has charge of, for they are a very devoted people to their church. The pretty little house of worship was crowded to the doors.

The interior of the church was beautifully decorated with "Old Glory," and springtime's brightest offerings of all kinds which made the place seem like a beautiful flower garden. The church choir under the direction of Marie Haugh who is an accomplished musician rendered entrancing music on this occasion. They were assisted by an orchestra composed of Messrs David Bher, Amiel Laufer, Harry and William Murtorf. Among the special features in the musical line was a song entitled "Knights of the New Crusade," by a class of boys commanded by Paul Farber, and a very pretty duet by Misses Lucy and Mary Eslinger, both have well cultivated voices and used them to good advantage on this occasion.

The address of "Welcome" was made by little Bessie Williams and the collection recitations entitled "Building Forts" was delivered by Merrill Williams both were recited in a masterly manner. The address made by the pastor was filled with beautiful words of advice to both old and young.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following real estate transfers were recorded during the past week by Recorder Jno. C. Rowe:

Flora W. Love et al. to James H. Love, dated Oct. 9, 1901, land in Centre Hall, consideration $561.31

Washington Camp No. 202 P. O. S. of A. to Union Grange No. 325 P. of H., dated May 16, 1903, lot in Unionville boro; consideration $400.00

Thomas E. King et ux. to Philip Benner Fry, dated June 22, 1903, land in Benner twp; consideration $350.00

Harbison Walker Factories Co. to Lee C. Morganroth, dated Feb. 19, 1903, tract in Liberty twp; consideration $400.00

Ada C. Keister et bar. to Samuel C. Goble, dated April 27, 1903, tract in Walker twp; consideration $348.12

William A. Thomas's Trustee's to William Felty, dated March 24, 1899, lot in Bellefonte boro; consideration $250.00

William Straub's Exr. to E. R. Owens et ux, dated May 23, 1903, lot in Spring twp; consideration $1200.00

Robt. Lloyd's heirs to Chas. H. Rowland, dated May 28, 1903, property in Phillipsburg; consideration $10,000.00

Wm. H. Harsbarger et ux. to John Dale, dated May 9, 1903, tract in Rush twp; consideration $850.00

Minnie Harper to American Lime and Stone Co., dated June 16, 1903, lot in Spring twp; consideration $400.00

A Moshannon Wedding.

On Tuesday the 23rd of June 1903, a very pretty wedding occurred at the home of the bride's parents at Moshannon. The contracting parties were Rolantus F. Borger and Ida Fye, both of that place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. S. Faus, the Methodist Episcopal pastor at Snow Shoe.

Wedded at Pine Glenn.

On Sunday June 21st Harry P. Hoover and Miss Ida M. Kremer, both of Pine Glenn, were married at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. S. Faus of the Methodist church. Both young people are popular and well known in their locality.

—Persons suffering from weak eyes and headache will be glad to know that Prof. J. Angel, the successful optician, will be at the Brockerhoff House Tuesday June 30 and Wednesday July 1st from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. The professor's popularity is due to his great success in treating patients.

Death of Mrs. Mary Kennedy.

Mrs. Mary Kennedy, mother of Thomas F. Kennedy, of Tyrone, died at her home in Sandy Ridge at 4:20 o'clock Saturday afternoon, aged 81 years 6 months and 9 days. Disease incident to old age caused her demise. The deceased was born in Ireland and came to America when only six years old. At Bald Eagle she was married to Alexander Kennedy who died several years ago. They had fourteen children those surviving being Mrs. Sarah J. Murray, John Kennedy, Charles K. Kennedy and Mrs. Agnes Pennington, of Sandy Ridge; Miles Kennedy, of Monongahela City; Thomas F. Kennedy, of Tyrone; and Mrs. Nannie McCoy, of Hastings. Two sisters also survive her, Mrs. Margaret Woomer, of Osceola, and Mrs. Fannie Benner, of Clearfield. She has been a resident of Sandy Ridge for many years. The remains were taken to Tyrone this morning and from the East Tyrone depot they were conveyed directly to the Oak Grove cemetery where interment was made.

William Foster Dead.

William Foster, of State College, died Wednesday morning at five o'clock. Interment will take place Saturday at 10 o'clock. Mr. Foster had been ill for a long time, his chief ailment resulting from his advanced age.

Deceased was born in Buffalo Valley, Union county, March 22, 1819 and in 1848 he came to Centre county. In 1847 Maria Corl, who died a few years ago, became his wife. The children born to them were Elizabeth, deceased, wife of Wm. Everhart; Charles H., a United States mail agent between New York and Pittsburgh; James deceased; John a chemist in Tennessee.

Mr. Foster was the only resident in the vicinity of State College who was living there when Pennsylvania State College was built, making him the oldest pioneer in that locality.

He was old in years, but young in everything good and pure. Beloved by all he has gone to reap the reward of the christian.

Death of Mrs. Mary Shiffer.

Died at the residence of W. H. Mosser on Lamb St. on Thursday evening June 18 1903. Mrs. Mary Shiffer of Pine Grove Mills, Pa., aged 83 years 7 month 4 days. Deceased was the widow of John Shiffer who died many years ago. She leaves the following children: Mrs. W. H. Mosser of Bellefonte; W. M. Shiffer of Sonbury, Mrs. Ella Fugate of Joliet, Ill.; Mrs. Lide G. Meek of Irwin, Pa., and Mrs. Kate M. Woods of Pine Grove Mills. The deceased leaves twenty grand children and six great grand children.

Interment at Pine Grove Mills at 3 p. m. Saturday. Funeral services were held Friday evening at 8 o'clock conducted by Rev. John A. Wood, pastor of the Methodist church.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Samuel Williams, S. A. Bell, Wilson I. Fleming, C. C. Shuey.

The remains were taken to Pine Grove Mills Saturday morning where interment took place.

Death of Mrs. Katherine Swiler.

Tuesday morning at 6:30 o'clock the angel of death entered the Swiler home in Bush Addition and called hence the spirit life of Mrs. Katherine Swiler, widow of the late Christian Swiler. For a number of years Mrs. Swiler has been a patient sufferer from paralysis and this morning she suffered another stroke which ended her earthly career. She was a kind christian woman and was a devoted member of the St John's Episcopal church. She was born at Rock Forge a few miles south of Bellefonte. On the 29th day of last April she was 63 years old. Three children are left to mourn her death, namely, Edward and Elizabeth of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Frank Eckie, of Philadelphia.

The funeral will take place Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home. Rev. John Wood Jr. will officiate.

Death of An Estimable Lady.

Mrs. F. H. Whippo, widow of the late Rev. Charles O. Whippo, one of Port Matilda's most estimable ladies, died at her home in that place Sunday morning June 21 at 5:30 o'clock. Death was due to a complication of diseases. She was aged 74 years, 8 month and 9 days.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The services were held in the Methodist Episcopal church at Port Matilda. Interment in the Friends Cemetery at Half Moon.

The Matrimonial Market.

The following marriage licenses were issued during the past week by Register A. G. Aroby:

Rolander F. Berger	Moshannon
Ida E. Frye
Ammon T. Rote	Coburn
Susan Fraire
Wm. G. Weston	Worth Twp
Tessie Woodring	Port Matilda
James M. Hawkins	Philipsburg
Mary E. Gray	McDonald, Pa.
George Trubityky	Clarence
Lizzie Reposky
N. A. Yearick	Nittany, Pa.
Sadie V. Ocker	Madisonburg

—No need to fear sudden attacks of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea, or summer complaint, if you have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the medicine chest.

Coming! Coming!

FIREMENS'

Free Street Fair

AND CARNIVAL

BELLEFONTE, PA.,

JUNE 29th to JULY 4th

INCLUSIVE.

THE WHATCH-ADAMS CARNIVAL COMPANY

Attractions. Unsurpassable Collection of Novelties. Here are the attractions that will attract you. A company of

JAPANESE ACTORS and ACROBATS

Acknowledged to be the most finished of all artists in their line, in a quaint and exceedingly odd performance in the Japanese Theatre.

WONDERFUL

Electrical Devices of Every Kind and character. The entertainment provided in the Electric Theatre is Fairly Fascinating in its interest.

The Beautiful Orient

Is one of the Most Interesting Features of a Most Interesting Midway. Here will be found natives of Asia in their quaint garbs and costumes. Hundreds of Dancing Girls, Flower Girls and Maids of the Orient enliven the scene. The ever

POPULAR MIDWAY

WITH ITS.....

Fascinating Sights and Scenes. The Booths and Platform will be lavishly and gaily decorated with Bunting, Flags, Palms and Flowers. A Bower of Beauty, Magic Extraordinary Combined with Electrical Illusions of Extraordinary Merit.

INEXPLICABLE

23 Illusions 23

all of Great Beauty and Puzzling in the extreme. The shows are many and all of the Highest Degree of Merit. Nothing ordinary is tolerated. And they are clean.

A GRAND

Balloon Ascension

and Parachute Drop daily. Every day a Big Day. Too cheap to miss. Fine Shows and Plenty of Innocent Amusement.

Cheap Excursion Rates

CORRESPONDENCE

PORT MATILDA.

A surprise party was given to Mrs. S. R. Williams at her home 1 1/2 mile east of town on last Monday evening one week. It being Mrs. W. fifty-second birthday. About sixty of her friends and neighbors gathered at her home and spent the evening together very pleasant. Ice cream and cake was served in abundance. Miss May Osman and Abbie Richards presided at the organ and rendered some excellent music. Saying the least every person enjoyed themselves and went home, the better for their being there.

The recent rains has wonderfully helped the hay crop in this valley.

Among the sick of our town is Mrs. John Robinson and James Marks.

Children's Services in the Baptist church last Sunday was well attended and a very impressive service was rendered.

Mrs. Annie Whippo widow of Osborn Whippo died June 21 at her home in this place after a brief illness, she was 75 years old.

Bertha Wilson of Loveville was a visitor at the home of Rev. Dillens on last Thursday evening.

The Pure Food Inspector visited our town last week to see what we have to eat and feed. We trust that he found this a poor place for his business.

Miss Lola Alberts of Philadelphia visited at the home of her sister Mrs. Chas. Crain last week.

G. M. Marks lost a valuable driving horse last Thursday. He had mixed some chop and paris green together and put it under the manger to kill rats, and in some manner the horse found the basin and eat the contents.

The School board of Worth township met and elected the following teacher for the ensuing year. Port Matilda, primary Miss Emma Reese; intermediate, Walter Williams; study dell, Mrs. Lizzie Crumb; laurel run, Norah Hamer; sunney side, Sadie Williams.

PENNS CREEK.

Daniel Kerstetter is at home from Milton, where he had been working at the carpenter trade.

Dr. G. A. Harter's wife and son from Maytown, Lancaster Co., are visiting friends.

The carpenters are busy framing S. G. Rotes barn.

The township road is in bad condition along Penns Creek.

Adam Rote's family from Union Co., were visiting at Robert Auman's over Sunday.

The Misses Mira Auman and Sadie Rishel were visiting at Fred Stover's at Pine Creek over Sunday.

There will be another festival at Coburn on Saturday the 27th.

John Confer, of Georgetown, is at home. He had been working for the Laurelton Lumber Co., all Spring.

Meers, John Hoesterman and Robert Finkel and families were seen driving through this vicinity on Sunday.

Wm. Wirt Sundayed with his family. He is working on Finkle's Lumber job in Brush Valley.

HANNAH.

The festival at Fowler station last Saturday evening was well attended. A nice sum of money being realized which goes toward building a fence around the Mt Pleasant Cemetery.

Children's Day services in the U. B. Church Sunday was quite largely attended. A very interesting program being furnishing.

Dollie Waite of Bellwood is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. James McMonigle.

Effie Erhard of Pitsaun is visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson near Mt Pleasant church.

Joseph Goss is in town looking after his farm and visiting his father-in-law John Nearhoof.

John Way of Stormtown was in town last Saturday doing some surveying for John T. Fowler and G. W. Walk.

A. C. Williams and family attended Children's Day services at Mt Pleasant church.

Children's Day services will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday.

RUNVILLE BUDGET.

A most interesting and inspiring Children's Day services was held Sunday morning in the U. B. Church commencing at 10 a. m. There was a large attendance of interesting spectators, the church was elaborately decorated and the little people acquitted themselves well and received much praise.

Claude Lucas came home Monday from Cameron.

Sadie Fiel spent Sunday at home.

Mrs. Laura Snyder, of Snow Shoe Intersection, attended Children's services at this place Sunday.

Mattie Faxon and Mr. Wooven Wood, of Bellefonte spent Sunday in Runville.

Ella Lucas was in Bellefonte, Saturday afternoon.

Charles Royer, of Tyrone, spent Sunday in Runville.

Mrs. Anna Lucas and Mrs. L. J. Heaton were in Unionville.

MADISONBURG.

A. Ocker took a business trip to Spring Mills on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Dooty and son, spend Saturday with Millheim friends.

Mrs. Amanda Miller spend Saturday with friends at Nittany Pa.

Ida Royer from Parvin is the guest of her brother W. I. Royer this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Grim and little son left for a visit with friends at Lock Haven Oak Grove and Jersey Shore, on Saturday.

Paul and George, two sons of Rev. W. C. Bierly, of Spring Mills, visited their grandfather Joe Bierly on Sunday.

Anconetta Miller is visiting friends at Zion and Bellefonte a few days.

Mrs. Catherine Fiedler left recently for a few weeks visit with her son A. J. Fiedler at Williamsport.

HOWARD.

Constable Roy Leathers of this place transacted business in Bellefonte on Monday.

Misses Nellie and Emma Weber were Bellefonte visitors on Tuesday.

The ball game on Saturday between the Howard and Flemington teams, resulted in the score of 5 to 3 in favor of Howard.

The Wellers Bros were the Flemington battery and Long and Shay the Howard battery.

W. C. Hensyl was a business visitor in Bellefonte on Tuesday.

Owing to the circus at Lock Haven on Saturday of week before last, the game between Howard and Flemington was postponed until last Saturday.

Mrs. S. F. Kline of this place departed on Wednesday of last week, to visit her daughters who resides at a distance.

Misses Edith and Nettie Bair daughters of Rev. L. N. Bair of Millheim are visiting Mrs. W. A. White of this place.

Misses Mary Kutz of Williamsport and Mattie Gouch of Newark N. J. visited over Sunday at the residence of Dr. W. J. Kurtz of Main St.

The Children's Day Services held in the United Evangelical Church on last Sunday evening passed off very successfully to the delight of the very large audience present, every available place being filled and the aisles crowded to the doors. All who participated in the exercises acquitted themselves well, the exercises, recitations, tableaux and songs rendered by the children were so well done, and spoken that all who heard them were greatly pleased and could only say how much talent, yet, lies dormant in these children for the future to develop.

Their training was thorough as not one mistake was made nor did anyone forget any part for which they had been prepared. The choir rendered delightful music among which were two male quartettes which deserve special praise. Our people are always highly pleased with these annual Children's Day Services. The church was handsomely decorated for which Rev. Artman the pastor deserves the credit. Not the least important feature of this service was the collection which amounted to $21.00 for missionary work.

Mrs. Edward Nef, two children and Miss Nellie Johnson of Chicago also Mrs. Harry Yearick of Niagara N. Y., are visiting at the home of their father Ira C. Johnson on Main St.

Mrs. Harry Kaupf her son and cousin of Pittsburgh are visiting at the home of J. L. Holter on Main St.

Mr. Sam'l Greninger and daughter Helen departed on Saturday for Philadelphia where he will visit relatives.

Mrs. John Holter Jr. departed for her home in Johnsonburg on Tuesday.

SHULTON ITEMS

The Children's Day Services which were held in the Methodist church were well attended. Thanks are returned to the attentive listeners as well as for the liberal collection.

Mrs. Amanda Evans and sister, also Bessie Dubbe and Miss Snyder were visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Mallory.

Florence Basom is visiting Mayme Wolfe for several weeks, wishing her a pleasant time.

S. A. Walizer is on the sick list for several days.

Edwin Bierly was canvassing with some very beautiful pictures through here on Saturday.

Mrs. Jennie Miller formerly of this place now living at Renovo is here on a short visit.

Mrs. Bertie Sult, Mrs. Elmer Confer and Eva Walizer left for Sober for a short time.

Chas. Drum and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Stover were to Millheim on Saturday.

Mrs. Wm. Hayley and son of Aaronsburg were visiting Geo. Winters on Monday.

Mr. Emericks home has been greatly improved by the painters, which have made a successful job of it.

Mrs. Geo. Wolfe and children have been visiting Geo. H. Smalls for several days.

Many feel sorry for Rev. Geo. McIlhenny pastor of the Methodist church, as he is obliged to go to his native county for his health. No doubt many wish him a successful trip, for all are very anxious to welcome him back.

Mr. Strayer has employed another apprentice, Mr. Fiedler. They left for Green Barr on Monday morning.

Maggie Winters went to Aaronsburg on Monday, with the intention of staying several weeks. No doubt C— will feel lonely during her absence and will feel like singing "Come home, Come home."

Mrs. Lizzie Peck of Nittany and Mrs. Mary Musser of Rebersburg called at Haughs on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hackenberg and daughter Lottie of Millheim were seen in our town on Sunday.

STATE COLLEGE.

Nearly all the students have left for their homes.

W. C. Patterson spent Saturday in Bellefonte.

Albert M. Arney, for the past two years an assistant in the Department of Electrical Engineering, has resigned his position to become Superintendent of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Bellefonte, Pa. He will enter upon his new duties about July 1.

Professor Surface, the State Zoologist, has accepted an invitation from Gov. Pennypacker to visit his farm on the Pektomen and inspect his fruit trees for injurious insects.

The following named gentlemen will act as Trustees for the College for the next three years: Dr. Lawrence M. Collett, Philadelphia, Gen. James A. Beaver, Bellefonte, Gabriel Heister, Harrisburg, Joel A. Herr, Cedar Springs, James G. White, New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Grumley of Altoona are spending their honeymoon at State College.

It is expected that the new Building will be completed in time for the Creamery course opening January 6, 1904. The building will accommodate a class of one hundred, and will enable the course to be given under much more favorable conditions than at any previous time. A registration fee of $6.00 is the only charge made by the College.

OAK HALL.

Mr. Louder and son Elmer visited the former father who is eighty five years old at Barre forge recently.

Simon Kline and family of Carlisle spent several days at his brothers J. A. Kline.

Miss Mary Homan is at present spending sometime with Charles Dales at the Branch.

Misses Kathryn Myres and Susie Reitz and brother called in our town on Wednesday evening.

Misses Lizzie Wieland of Linden Hall, accompanied by her friend Helen Hoesterman, of Centre Hall visited Miss Bessie Weber on Monday.

Miss Beulah Fortney, of Boalsburg, spent Sunday here.

Mrs. Hunter and daughter of Boalsburg visited the former aunt Mrs. Green Irvin on Monday.

Miss Annie Bohn who has been on the sick list is better.

Mrs. Philip Dale returned home after visiting friends in the western part of the State.

George H. Kline son of Cornelius Kline departed for Somerset Co. where he will visit his brother.

Miss Bertha Wagner of Bellefonte visited her brother Harry at this place last week.

Mrs. Geo. Bailey of Altoona stopped on her way home from Philadelphia to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Kline.

Some of our people attended the supper given by the Lutheran Church at the home E. K. Smith on Friday evening.

MILESBURG.

Sam'l Swain is all smiles a young son arrived on Monday of last week to learn the tonorial trade with him.

William Crossmore of St. Louis, Missouri is a guest of Mrs. Mary Crossmore.

Geo. and William Campbell of Williamsport were called to the burg to see their invalid mother who is lying critically ill.

Mrs. Brotherland of Holidaysburg is a guest of Mrs. Wilson and Miss Kinnie.

The Misses Susan Fletcher, Grace Schenck, Eleanor Fletcher, Sarah Welrick and Master Marion Fletcher, all of Howard spent Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor it being the 45th anniversary of their marriage.

Mrs. Nancy Leathers and daughter of Mt. Eagle Sundayed with Mr. and Mrs. John A. Whiteman.

John Fulton of Philadelphia spent part of Sunday with his mother and Mrs. Mary Shroyer.

Mrs. Lockard and daughters also Wm. Young of Lamar Sundayed with Mrs. Levi Grubb.

Frank Kohlbecker and wife returned home after a weeks wedding tour to Boston, and other eastern cities, on Monday. The band gave them a complimentary serenade, Frank in return came down with the "spondonicks" proves himself a man every time, place and opportunity.

POTTER HILLS.

James S. Reish, proprietor of the Eutaw House, visited Centre Hall last week.

Caterpillars are making their appearance in unusual numbers on the fruit trees and are doing considerable damage.

Relic hunters were busy Sunday hunting around the old Faust barn where the burglars were captured by Sheriff Taylor and his posse Saturday afternoon.

W. W. McCormick was a recent visitor to Centre Hall.

Misses Cora and Sallie McClenahan are home on a vacation from Altoona.

Mrs. Lena Smith is entertaining Mrs. Alice Jordan, of Lewistown.

J. O. Stover is home suffering with a very sore foot, the result of injuries he received while at work in Burnham.

Clark Bible is also unable to work, having two of his fingers crushed.

WOODWARD.

Miss Maud Ard is visiting friends in Lewisburg.

Bruce Motz is nursing a sore arm, the result of coming in too close contact with a saw.

The crops are improving since the recent rains.

Mrs. N. E. Noll and children are guests of W. W. Eby and family.

A number of our people attended the Commencement exercises at State College last week.

RUNVILLE.

Lots of rain!

Children's meeting was a success, much credit is due Mrs. Edward Poorman for the interest she took in training the children, the music was very inspiring.

Kate McNeal of the Springs, Pa. and one of Huntingdon county's efficient school teachers was a welcome visitor at U. B. Parsonage recently.

Lulu Wells of Pleasant Gap, visited her parents in this place recently.

Clyde Hancock, accompanied by his grand-father, Elias Hancock returned to his home on the 22 inst.

The Christian Endeavor society of this place elected the following delegates to attend the district convention to convene at the Buffalo Run Presbyterian Church, on the 25th inst. Mrs. Ida Poorman, Mrs. Ellen Fisher, Miss Myrtle Friel, Miss Flora B. Poorman, G. A. Sparks.

Vera A., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lucas died on the 21st inst. aged 2 years 6 months and 26 days, her funeral took place at 10 o'clock on the 23rd inst. at the parents home services were conducted by Rev. G. A. Sparks. Interment at Messiah cemetery.

Christian Endeavor next Sunday evening. Leader L. Irwin.

PLEASANT GAP.

Mr. Gentzel of Altoona and his mother Mrs. H. Gentzel of this place have returned from an extended visit to the West. They experienced some great difficulty in getting home on account of the great floods that visited that region.

Mrs. Harry Haag is visiting friends in town.

The Misses Celia and Annie Noll, of Bellefonte are visiting their mother Mrs. Isaac Noll who is lying seriously ill at her home.

Rev Barnes of Bellwood is visiting his parents at this place.

Nettie Gill has returned from a pleasant visit with friends in Altoona.

Mrs. Markle and Edna Horner spent Sunday in town.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Horner, of Colyer, were called here Monday by the serious illness of the latter's mother.

Mayme Bell returned from State College where she visited at the Erb home at that place.

Wm Bell returned to his home at this place after being employed at Tyrone.

Robert Breon of Millheim, is visiting friends at Tyrone.

Elmer Swartz of this place is visiting at Altoona, at the homes of his sisters Mrs. Christ Musser and Mrs. Elmer E. Johnson of that place.

LEWISBURG.

Harry Coble of Altoona visited at this place and vicinity over Sunday.

Miss Helen Dreese went to Lock Haven on Saturday to attend Normal Commencement.

Children's Day Exercises will be observed in the M. E. Church on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Oscar Williams of Altoona is visiting relatives at this place.

Phoebe Miller of Shingletown spent Friday at the home of J. S. Herman.

James Grove and Jacob Shrey transacted business at Oak Hall on Monday.

GATESBURG.

Mr. Geo. Harpster and wife, of Warriorsmark, Sundayed with his brother, Jacob Harpster.

Howard Powley is wearing smiles over the arrival of a young son.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gates, of this place, has gone to visit her daughter, Mrs. Casity, of Tyrone.

Mrs. Mary Lytle, of Renovo, Sundayed at her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fields.

Pleasant Birthday Surprise.

A number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Ekley, of Milesburg, had planned to surprise them on the occasion of Mrs. Ekley's birthday last Monday. So well were the plans laid that the good lady of the house knew nothing of the affair until her return at noon to find the house filled with guests and the table loaded down with delicious and appetizing eatables. A most delightful time was enjoyed by all and numerous presents were left to show the esteem in which Mrs. Ekley is held. In parting all wished her many more years of happy life.

Among the guests present from Marsh Creek and Milesburg were the following: Lizzie Poorman, Mrs. Oscar Fetzer and two daughters, John Rocky, wife and son, Mrs. Oris Fetzer, Bella Kline, Lucy Kline, Belle Gibbs, Lucy Poorman, Geo. Taylor and wife, Mrs. Harris Poorman, Mrs. G. P. Heverly, Mrs. Geo. Quick, Mrs. T. H. Malone and daughter, Tressie Ekley, Erma Poorman, Mrs. S. T. Gibbs, Alfred Shank, wife and son, Sadie Packer, Rev. A. C. Lathrop, wife and three children, Mertie Fetzer, Mrs. Charles Shawley and two children, Nora Poorman, Raymond Ekley and Mrs. Thomas Poorman.

UNCLAIMED LETTER LIST.

The following letters remain in the Bellefonte Post Office uncalled for June 22nd, 1903:

Carrie Ausman, Alfred H. Dunkleberger, Mrs. Philip Godley, Z. A. Holt, Thomas Hazard, Mrs. Walter P. Jackson, C. J. Murphy, Thos. Nelson, Annie White, George Watkins.

FOREIGN LIST.

Felice Tacovella, Francesca Valente, Frank Bruno, Venechia Lenards, Felizo Manno, Osif Knoznana.

When called for please say advertised.

W. W. MONTGOMERY, P. M.

THE NEW BROOM

A Wonderfully Simple Article Made at a Simply Wonderful Profit.

From the facts presented you will understand why international Broom Company

Stock Now Selling

At 50 CENTS A SHARE

Is a gilt-edged investment, and why it is recognized as such by all who will not put their investments into any enterprise unless they see great and speedy profit ahead.

Owing to the vast popular demand, the stock of the International Broom Company will be advanced to

Sixty Cents a Share in July. A further rise to Seventy-five Cents a share will occur about September 1st.

The high place The New Broom gained in public favor is due to the Company's ability to produce solid proof of every statement.

WE ASSERT:

That the demand for The New Broom is as wide as the civilized world.

That it is the only sanitary broom made.

That the Brooklyn factory made in April, 1903, twice as many brooms as in March and four times as many as in February, and earned a profit of more than 25 per cent. over its operating expenses on its production.

That there is a sub-company in Ottawa and applications under consideration for the establishing of twenty more.

That dealers, wholesale and retail, think so well of The New Broom that they are becoming stockholders in the Company.

If we could not prove all this, and more, we should not expect any careful and conservative investor to buy this stock. It does not remain long at 50 cents a share. No manipulation of ours will put it up. The inexorable laws of trade will do that, to the great profit of investors who are wise enough to come in now.

Parties who are thoroughly familiar with the plans and prospects of the Company and the possibilities of The New Broom unhesitatingly declare that this stock should very soon pay a dividend in the par value and rapidly advance until it sells for $2.00 or $3.00 per share.

Intending Investors can visit the factory and obtain particulars and proof of every claim on application to our local fiscal agents, where will be found a full list of the various grades of Brooms manufactured by this Company.

G. R. Spigelmeyer and Co.

7 Crider's Exchange, Bellefonte, Pa.,

LOCAL FISCAL AGENTS FOR

The International Broom Co.,

Manager's Office and Sales Department, 305 to 309 Broadway, New York.

FINANCIAL OFFICE, 27 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK. Capital $2,500,000. All Common Stock, $1,500,000 Treasury Stock. Par Value of Shares, $1.00. All stock registered by the Corporation Trust Company of New York.

Call or Write for Prospectus.

BELLEFONTE MARKET QUOTATIONS.

PRODUCE:
These prices are paid by C. C. Shuey for produce—
Eggs, per doz. 75
Lard, " lb. 12 1/4
Tallow, " " 3
Butter, " " 12 1/4
Apples, per bus. 30 & 40
Potatoes, per bu. 50
Side, " lb. 8
Shoulder, " " 10
Ham " " 15

GRAIN:
These prices are paid by C. T. Gerberich & Son for grain—
Wheat, old, ... 70
" new, ... 70
Oats new, ... 35
Barley, ... 50
rye, ... 52
Corn shell or ears per Bu. 0

FARM FOR RENT—100 acres under cultivation near Mountain Eagle, now occupied by Martin Gates. Good orchard, running water. Apply to H. Y. Stitzer, Attorney at Law Bellefonte, Pa.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

—All Hoffman, not his finger taken off while working in the Temple Court.

—Editor Thomas H. Harter has been appointed Fish Warden for Centre county.

—If an umbrella was made of only one rib like a woman, you would never be able to shut it up.

—The Bellefonte School Board at their regular monthly meeting on the evening of July 6th will elect teachers for the coming school year.

—Make your preparations to attend the Street Carnival the first week in July, it is something great. The proceeds are for the Undine Riddle who deserve a liberal patronage.

—The new post office room in Temple Court is being rapidly put in shape and it is expected will be occupied by July 1. The new post office fixtures however will not arrive before July 15.

—The Pennsylvania State Educational Association meets at Wilkesbarre, June 20th, July 1st and 2nd. A fine program is offered, and there will no doubt be a large gathering of teachers and the friends of education.

—Mrs. Mary L. Harrison, widow of ex-President Benjamin Harrison, contemplates a trip around the world. She will leave shortly for the coast to take a steamer for Japan, where she will spend the greater part of her time.

—The Central Railroad announces that on Friday evening, June 26th, the first band concert for the season will be given at Heck Park. These concerts always prove popular and the attendance warrants their continuance.

—John H. Hickson, of Williamsport, Tuesday was fined $10 by Alderman Stead on a charge of having shot three robins. The defendant claimed the robins were eating his cherries. Game Warden Eshen Behm preferred the charge.

Subscriptions to the new series of Stock in the Central Building and Loan Association will continue to be received. The first payment on the stock will be received by the Secretary Geo. L. Potter at his office Friday June 19th inst at 7:30 o'clock p. m.

CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Dr. H. H. Fletcher

—The big trout caught by Al Hoffman Tuesday night, and which was the wonder of everybody on Wednesday, was secured by the Centre County Sportsmen's League and Wednesday evening sent to Prof. H. A. Surface, zoologist at State College, to be mounted.

—Mrs. E. W. Derringer, of Philadelphia, mother of Mrs. W. P. Duncan, of Philadelphia, and who was there quite recently on a visit, died on Sunday at the home of her son, Harry at Locust Grove, Md. Where she had been called by his serious illness and subsequent death.

CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Dr. H. H. Fletcher

—The Lewisburg papers of the 20th contained the death of a former well known citizen of Centre county. We refer to Levi Cronley, who died there Saturday June 13, aged 85 years, 9 months and 1 day. He was born in Miles township, Centre county and was married to Miss Mary Benfer of Snyder county. The funeral occurred Tuesday. Interment at Lewisburg. Rev. R. Leighton Gearhart officiated.

—Judge Cyrus Gordon's son, John, who graduates from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania, won the $100 prize offered in competitive examination to the member of the fourth year class showing the greatest proficiency in clinical medicine. Some time ago, in a like examination, young Gordon was selected as resident physician of the Philadelphia Presbyterian hospital, standing at the head of the class of applicants.

—The American Protective Tariff League of New York is early in the field for the campaign of 1904. Realizing that the percentage of new voters may prove to be sufficient to turn the scale in several States. The League has mailed to its members and connections inquiry cards asking names and addresses of young men who will, next year, cast their first votes at a Presidential election. Replies to these cards are coming in by the hundreds in every mail, and the League is rapidly accumulating an immense list of names to which it will send literature of the sort calculated to inform young electors as to the merits of the questions dividing the two political parties.

—An important meeting of the stockholders of the Bellefonte Window Glass company was held Wednesday evening. The purpose was to discuss the prospects for a resumption of the plant here next fall. While no definite action could be taken, it was the expressed belief of all that with some alterations and the addition of a few labor-saving mechanisms the plant could be again blown in and run at a profit. To make the necessary improvements, however, will require some money, more than the stockholders themselves can command, and those having the welfare of the town at heart should come to the front and do all possible to put this industry on a running basis.

—The Methodist at Mill Hall are building a new church.

—Mrs. Samuel Bryon of Bellefonte is lying seriously ill at her home in Brick Row.

—Foley's Kidney Cure makes kidneys and bladder right. Don't delay taking. C. M. Parrish.

—The district convention which was to be held yesterday was postponed until next Thursday.

—On the first indication of kidney trouble, stop it by taking Foley's Kidney Cure. Parrish's drug store.

—George L. VanTries, formerly of this place, is seriously ill with typhoid fever at a hospital in Allegheny City.

—No good health unless the kidneys are sound. Foley's Kidney Cure makes the kidneys right. Parrish's drug store.

—The carpenters on Wednesday morning commenced the woodwork on the residence of Clyde Smith on Bishop street.

—Chronic bronchial troubles and summer coughs can be quickly relieved and cured by Foley's Honey and Tar. C. M. Parrish.

—Simon Hockenberry is lying seriously ill at the home of his daughter Mrs. Frank Gehret.

—The teachers held their meeting in the brick school house Tuesday. The professionals held their meeting in the brick building Wednesday.

CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Dr. H. H. Fletcher

—Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Kline have returned from the funeral of Mrs. Kline's father, Mr. J. W. Lucas Sr. Mr. Lucas was an old settler of Centre Township. His death was due to old age and a complication of diseases. He was aged 79 years 11 months and 26 days, and leaves to mourn his loss a wife and nine children. Mrs. Kline being the oldest.

—A black bug, with bright golden markings upon its wings, has just appeared in York county wheat fields and is playing havoc with the crop. The bug is sucked by the insects from the wheat kernels in the manner that bees extract honey from flowers. A bug will suck at a wheat kernel until no trace of moisture is left and the kernel is dead. Farmers are at a loss to know by what means to rid their fields of the pests, and it is apprehended that the crop will be ruined. Samples of the wheat attacked and specimens of the insects have been forwarded to the state and national agricultural departments.

—June 14, this year, which comes on Sunday, will be the 126th anniversary of the adoption of the national flag. On June 14, 1777, congress enacted: "That the flag of the 13 states be 13 stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." On April 4, 1818, it was again enacted: "That from and after the fourth day of July next, the flag of the United States be 13 horizontal stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be 20 stars, white in a blue field, and that on the admission of a new state into the union, one star be added to the union of the flag, and such addition to take effect on the fourth day of July next succeeding such admission." Since 1818, 25 stars or sovereign states have been added to the union, making 45 in all.

—A merchant who was very punctual in all that he did, one day gave a joiner an order for some work. Knowing the man was rather careless, and often promised, but did not perform, he said to him: "When will you have my work finished?" "On Thursday next," replied the joiner. "If I am living, you shall have it." Thursday came and passed without the promised work. In the evening the merchant called at the newspaper office, and asked the printer to insert among the deaths the name of the joiner. On taking up the paper next day the man was surprised to find an announcement of his death, and went to the printer and demanded of him an explanation. He was referred to the merchant, who, on seeing him expressed some surprise, for, said he, "you solemnly promised my work for Thursday if you were living, and as it did not come I thought you must be dead."

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE
Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right
Parrish's drug store.

Death of Mrs. Samuel Greninger.
Mrs. Samuel Greninger, of Altoona, died at the home of her parents in Howard Monday night. Death was due to consumption. Her maiden name was Ada Heverly, and she was the daughter of John Heverly of Howard, and was about 20 years old. She leaves to mourn her departure a husband and little daughter. She was a member of the Christian church at Howard and highly esteemed.

The funeral took place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Howard.

TEN YEARS IN BED.

R. A. Gray, J. P. Oakville, Ind., writes: "For ten years I was confined to my bed with disease of my kidneys. It was so severe that I could not move part of the time. I consulted the very best medical skill available, but could get no relief until Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me. It has been a Godsend to me." Parrish's drug store.

Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and can safely be given to children. C. M. Parrish.

A PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Calvin H. Troup United in Marriage to Miss Lydia Bell.

The residence of W. W. Bell of South Thomas street, was the scene Thursday of a quiet but very pretty wedding event. The occasion was the marriage of Mr. Bell's youngest daughter, Miss Lydia to Mr. Calvin H. Troup, of this city. The ceremony was performed at 11 o'clock in the presence of the family and a few invited guests by Rev. John A. Wood Jr., pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. The bride was attired in white silk tulle, and her traveling gown was of brown broadcloth. The house was very prettily decorated for the occasion.

There was no best man nor bridesmaid and the ceremony was very simple throughout. After the words were said which united this happy couple for life an enjoyable wedding dinner was served and at 1:05 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Troup left on a wedding tour to Gettysburg and Hanover.

The groom is in the employ of the Pennsylvania Match Company and is a most worthy young man while the bride is an estimable young lady, pretty and accomplished, and will make an excellent helpmate through life.

The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Lem Brooks, Mrs. David Haines, Mame McGarvey, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frain, Wilbur Burkholder, Alice Tate, S. A. Bell and wife, Jennie Hull, William S. Chambers, Thomas Kessinger and wife, and Samuel Donachy.

Accident at State College.

A serious accident occurred at State College last Wednesday in which Miss Jeanette Murray of Pittsburgh was painfully injured and Miss Mary Weaver of Bellefonte slightly hurt.

Misses Murray and Weaver were attending the Commencement exercises at State and were taking a buggy ride with a couple of young lady friends. The horse frightening at a wagon following at a rapid pace, became unmanageable, and ran away, throwing the visiting ladies out. Miss Weaver escaped with a few scratches but Miss Murray fell on her head and was so badly injured that she is still unable to be taken from the Fraternity house to which she was conveyed. Her friends were notified and her mother and brother came immediately and will remain until she can be taken home.

A Pleasant Affair.

On last Wednesday evening a crowd of young people gathered in Zigler's orchard and christened the old Montgomery place "Summer Paradise." The beautiful scenery and the thousand little songsters which fill the air with their rich music have given the place its name.

A sumptuous repast was served which consisted of chicken, noodles and ice cream. Everything was delicious, and the pure mountain water made it doubly so. Mrs. M. Beck was chaperon and head cook, Miss Helen Schenck rendered some beautiful music which we all enjoyed.

At an early hour all departed for their several homes. Wishing that more would go and do likewise.—Howard Hostler.

Cut off Toe With an Axe.

Miss Mable Otto, the 14 year old daughter of Mr. Hamilton Otto met with quite a painful accident Thursday morning. Walking through the garden in company with her sister Helen, Mabel spied a large axe, and temptingly near it, was a stick of wood which she undertook to chop up. She had hardly taken a stroke until the axe shield off and cut through her shoe and almost severed the large toe from her left foot. Dr. Klump was summoned, who upon examination thought it would be necessary to have the toe amputated entirely. Dr. Sebring assisted him with the operation. We feel sorry for Mable, and trust that in the future if she wishes to take Physical Culture exercises that she will at least take a duller axe.

Meeting With Success.

Clarence Longacre, a Bellefonte boy is meeting with success since going to Williamsport and his many friends here will learn with pleasure of this. He is employed in the China Department of a large store there and has just been promoted to the position of manager of this department. He is now in New York city purchasing china ware having been given carte blanche in the matter of buying.

Wedding Announcements.

Cards of invitation have been issued to the wedding of H. F. Gearhart and Miss Mame Fox both of this place. The happy event will take place on Thursday July 2nd. Mr. Gearhart is the agent for the Adams Express Company at this place and Miss Fox is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Fox.

Orders for Rifle Practice.

Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart issued to the National Guard of Pennsylvania a general order for rifle practice, declaring the season open until October 31. Each company in the National Guard will have to practice frequently with the Krag-Jorgensen carbine before becoming an efficient with it as they were with the old arm.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve
For Piles, Burns, Sores.
C. M. Parrish.

MUCH WORK FOR MINE BOARD

Operators Will Have Grievances to Be Adjusted As Well as the Men.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 22.—When the conciliation board meets in this city on Thursday the operators will have grievances to be adjusted as well as the miners, and this will be a surprise to many of the latter, who believed that the coal companies had nothing to complain of. The operators will take exception to the many petty strikes, which are the cause of much inconvenience and annoyance; also that the non-union men are being interfered with, and that the coal output is lessened by the practice of employees remaining at home on certain days without permission.

The miners will offset this with the charge of discrimination; that some of the men active in the strike movement have not been given work since; that the award of the commission has been violated by a change in the condition of mining at many places which does not permit the miners to make as much now as before the strike, and that the operators have broken an old custom in the Schuylkill region by having the men work an hour longer on Saturday. Among other important questions which he miners want settled will be the reduction of yardage, check weighmen, hours of labor for drivers and company hands.

MITCHELL SERIOUSLY ILL

Miners' Leader Breaks Down From Overwork.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 22.—After ignoring for weeks the pleas of his fellow workers that he take a rest, President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, is seriously ill in this city. His health has been weakened by continuous application to work, and for more than a month members of the national executive board of the union have endeavored to persuade him to relinquish his duties for a time and seek recuperation. Overwork, pure and simple, is said to be the cause of his breakdown.

President Mitchell arrived here a day or two ago from Scranton, Pa., where he presided at the special convention of the anthracite miners. As soon as he reached the city he took up a number of important matters that had accumulated, among them the strike of the Linton coal field workmen, who had broken their agreement with the operators.

Mr. Mitchell's condition has caused considerable alarm, and he is receiving the best of medical care.

LOWELL TEXTILE STRIKE OFF

Unions Voted Unanimously to End the Great Conflict.

Lowell, Mass., June 22.—The textile council has declared the great strike in the Lowell mills at an end. Every union affiliated with the council was represented, and the vote was unanimous. Mule spinners and loom fixers were included in this vote, despite statements that they would oppose a return to work.

When asked for a statement, President Conroy smilingly said: "We now worship at the altar of defeat, but later we shall rise again and conquer."

The strike began on March 30, and involved about 17,000 operatives. The mills were shut down until June 1, when the agents opened the gates and the majority of the operatives went back to work. The strike has cost in wages about $1,300,000.

Indian Baptists Bar White Men.

Hobart, Okla., June 22.—The Indian Baptist Association, which is composed entirely of Kiowa Indians, has adopted a resolution excluding all whites from their meetings. Missionaries working among the Indians announce this as a result of the timidity of the Indians in participating in religious exercises in the presence of whites. Lone Wolf, who recently brought suit against the United States government to prevent the opening of the Kiowa reservation to settlement, is their chief minister and presides during the convention now in session. He is a Carlisle graduate.

Servian Conspirators Promoted.

Belgrade, June 22.—The promotions are announced of various members of the military deputation to King Peter at Geneva. Colonel Popovics, of the late King Alexander's palace guard, is created a general and first aide-de-camp to King Peter; Captain Kostics, who opened the palace gates for the assassins of the late king and queen, is promoted to be a major, and Lieutenant Gronica, who was on guard outside the palace on the night of the assassinations, and who was a confidant of the conspirators, is made a captain.

Hail Storms in Nebraska.

Lincoln, Neb., June 22.—Severe storms of wind and hail prevailed near Hastings. Small buildings were blown over and hail practically ruined the growing crops in a strip two miles wide and several miles long. Hail between Milford and Beaver Crossing, for a distance of 12 miles, cut vegetation to the ground and smashed windows. Near Ulysses, Melville Crawford, a farmer, was killed by lightning.

British Bark Given Up for Lost.

New York, June 17.—The British bark MacDuff, in ballast for Pensacola, Fla., with a crew of 30 men, has been given up for lost by the Maritime Exchange. The MacDuff left here 40 days ago, and since that time no tidings have been heard of her. She should have made Pensacola in three weeks.

Though the world may owe every man a living, only the persistent collector gets it.

900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of INFANTS & CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr. SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Aloe -
Rhubarb -
Sassafras -
Sage -
Peppermint -
Licorice -
Worm Seed -
Cinnamon -
Mint -
A Perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Face Simile Signature of
Dr. H. H. Fletcher
NEW YORK.
At 6 months - 35 DROPS - 35 CENTS
EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

The Training of Animals.

Has been carried to such an extent that little now remains to be done before the animals will be almost as intelligent as human beings. Gentry Bros. Famous Shows United this season, present a brand new series of trained animal acts, one of which would be considered an important feature for any other exhibition that might be lucky enough to possess it. The entire company of animal actors in their astounding novelties is beyond description and has to be seen to be appreciated. It is needless to say, however, that Gentry Bros. many interesting surprises will soon be shown to the community as their famous Shows united will exhibit here, Saturday June 27.

DO YOU ENJOY WHAT YOU EAT?

If you don't your food does not do you much good. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the remedy that every one should take when there is anything wrong with the stomach. There is no way to maintain the health and strength of mind and body except by nourishment. There is no way to nourish except through the stomach. The stomach must be kept healthy, pure and sweet or the strength will let down and disease will set up. No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, sour risings, rifting, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles are quickly cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Interesting to Asthma Sufferers

Daniel Bante of Ottumwa, Iowa, writes: "I have had asthma for three or four years and have tried about all the cough and asthma cures in the market and have received treatment from physicians in New York and other cities, but got very little benefit until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar which gave me immediate relief and I will never be without it in my house. I sincerely recommend it to all.—C. M. Parrish.

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Dr. H. H. Fletcher

TO SNUFF VOLCANOES.

Startling Discovery Made by An Australian.

Volcanoes can easily be extinguished, says the New York Herald. A New Zealand man claims (and there are many who agree with him) to have discovered a liquid by means of which volcanoes may be extinguished quickly whether active or threatening.

Many diseases of the human body act in the same manner as volcanoes. Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Kidney Disorders, Female Diseases and many others all begin with a slight rumble of pain and distress, and if not treated in time will burst forth in all their fury, causing all who are so afflicted the most intense suffering and making life a complete burden.

That a liquid has been discovered that will extinguish these volcanic eruptions of disease, whether active or threatening, is not only certain but a material fact.

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY is this liquid discovery. THE - WONDERFUL CURATIVE powers of this famous remedy have cut a new path through the field of medicine, sweeping with it a startling record of tremendous success.

Druggists sell it in New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles.

Sample bottle, enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y.

Dr. David Kennedy's Nasal Eye Salve for all diseases or inflammations of the Eyes.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. H. H. Fletcher

of

In Use

For Over

Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Like a Comet
This famous remedy does for the stomach what which it is unable to do for itself, even if but slightly disordered or overburdened.

Kodol

supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles and membranes of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. It cures indigestion, flatulence, palpitation of the heart, nervous dyspepsia and all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying and strengthening the glands, membranes of the stomach and digestive organs.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Your Dealer Can Supply You.

Bottles only $1.00 Size holding 2 1/2 times the true size, which sells for 50c.

Prepared by E. C. DEWITT & CO., CHICAGO.

C. M. Parrish.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

HIS JUST REWARD

....By PETER M'ARTHUR

Copyright, 1902, by Peter M'Arthur

BOZRAH could hardly be described as a deserted village because it had never been frequented. It consisted of one store and a station house on an inexcusable railroad that had been built during the railroad craze of a generation ago.

The 7 o'clock express was pulling away from the station and plunging into the darkness of an approaching thunderstorm. Sam McDonald, the storekeeper, who was also postmaster and express agent, was standing in his doorway looking at the slaty curtain of rain that was rising across the sky under a fleecy arch of wind cloud. Every moment the lightning was becoming more vivid and the thunder claps sounded nearer. He was on the point of retreating into the store when the station master called to him through the windy tumult:

"Hey, Sam! Here's an express parcel!"

"Lock it up in the freight room for the night!" he called back.

"But this has a special order with it, and it's insured," said the station master, coming toward the store at a run through the first heavy drops of the storm.

"The order says that it is to be delivered tonight," he continued as they both got under shelter. And he handed a little parcel to McDonald.

"Orders or no orders, it isn't going to be delivered in a storm like this," McDonald growled. Then he lit a lamp, for the darkness of midnight had come with the storm.

"Well, it's no funeral of mine," said the station agent. "You have the parcel, and it's your business to look after it."

In the meantime McDonald looked at the address and suddenly stood bolt upright. After a brief pause he put the parcel in his pocket and started toward the back door which led to the stable.

"Where are you going?" asked the station agent in surprise.

"To deliver this parcel!" McDonald called back with a savage laugh as he buttoned his coat and plunged out into the beating rain. A few minutes later the station agent heard McDonald speaking fiercely to his horse as he mounted in the stable yard and then for a few moments heard the splashing of its feet as it galloped away.

McDonald could see the road only in glimpses when there was a blaze of lightning. His frightened horse was constantly stopping, as if overwhelmed by the rain, but still the rider leaned against the storm and rode forward. The storm in his heart was so fierce that the tumult of the elements almost soothed him. Olive Lucas would have her birthday present even if he died in the attempt to deliver it.

It was a strange fate that made McDonald in his capacity of postmaster and express agent a go between for the scornful Olive and his rival. Letters sent to be his wife; but, being young, she insisted on a year's delay before their marriage, and during that year she learned many things about her lover that she had not previously suspected. He was a man whose nature had not been softened by the fierce struggles of his early life. Instead of broadening him adversity had made him narrow and suspicious, and as soon as he conceived he had the right to dictate to her he developed into a jealous tyrant. As postmaster he saw all the letters she wrote and received and practically established a censorship over her mail. His was a love that demanded sacrifices rather than made them, and Olive was beginning to realize her mistake when Harry Lawson, an old playmate who had gone to Chicago some years ago, returned for a holiday. He was so delighted to find his little tomboy friend developed into a demure but lively beauty that he promptly lost his heart to her, and she reciprocated his affection.

A couple of days after Lawson had returned to the city a letter from him arrived at the post office addressed to Olive. McDonald recognized the handwriting and was unusually surly as he delivered the missive. Olive noticed his anger and knew its cause and received the letter with a defiant toss of her head. The result was a bitter quarrel and the end of their engagement. Next day she posted a letter to Lawson, and from that time on their correspondence was fast and furious.

If he had dared, McDonald would have destroyed the letters; but, with all his faults, his sense of duty was too keen to allow him to commit such a wrong. But to be obliged to take a love token from his rival to Olive instead of merely handing it out at the office was simply maddening.

As he neared the river flats where Olive lived the storm was rolling away to the east, and the moon in her first quarter was casting a faint light through the broken clouds. A short distance from the river bank his horse stopped suddenly and stared before him. McDonald raised his head and peered sullenly into the semidarkness. The little valley through which the Spadina wound was in reality the channel it had originally cut for itself through the plateau which it drained. As McDonald looked at it this valley appeared to be filled with a gray fog. While he was wondering vaguely at the unusual occurrence he became conscious of a dull continuous roar and realized that what he saw gleaming before him was not mist, but water. The little river was flooded and was once more filling its ancient channel. He then remembered that all the previous night and previous day there had been an unceasing series of thunderstorms sweeping across the north, where lay the sources of the river.

Owing to the improved drainage system the rainfall had all poured into the river at once, and the result was a flood as sudden and overwhelming as comes with the breaking of a mighty dam. As he looked at the flood of water he knew that the Lucas house on the river flats must at least be surrounded by water. Urging his horse to a gallop, he reached the river bank and found there a group of farmers who were looking out on the scene of destruction. By the dim moonlight and flashes of lightning that were still vivid they could see all kinds of wreckage floating in the boiling torrent. The Lucas home was already submerged to the second story, and Olive and her parents could be seen huddled on the roof awaiting a rescue that seemed impossible. The few boats owned by the farmers had been swept away by the waves that had rushed down the valley. The water had risen ten feet in as many minutes and was still rising. When McDonald realized the situation he was conscious of a fierce feeling of exultation. This new difficulty would only serve to make his martyrdom more complete, and Olive would get her gift from his rival with a greater sacrifice on his part. He felt that it would be a glorious revenge.

Having been a raftsmen on the lakes in his youth, the stormiest water had no terrors for him, and he began to cast about for some means of reaching those who were in such deadly peril. He remembered that the farmer whose barn stood a few rods away had a tank wagon box that was used to carry water to the thrashing machine engine. It was made water tight, and, as it could keep water in, it could also, if closed, keep water out. It would make an excellent float for a raft.

Calling on the men who were standing on the river bank to come and help him, he ran to the barn, telling them on the way what he wished to do. Willing hands carried the tank to the edge of the water, and others lifted one of the wide barn doors from its hinges. This door they spiked securely on the top of the tank, and with a few strokes of an ax McDonald made a rude oar from a plank. This oar he fastened to the end of the raft with a rope, and, taking with him the lantern with which the farmer had been lighting him at his work, he got aboard his strange craft and was pushed out into the stream. With his heavy oar, which he used chiefly as a rudder, he worked his raft out into the current, which bore it toward the Lucas house. Mr. Lucas also had a lantern, and as he saw that rescue was coming he waved it frantically. Calculating his direction to a nicety and fighting the unfavourable currents with the skill of a raftsmen and the strength of a giant, McDonald forced the angry water to drive him straight toward his destination. The raft struck the house squarely, and as it did the building yielded perceptibly and tottered to its foundation. Realizing the danger, Lucas grasped Olive and hurried her forward upon the barn door, where McDonald, who had forsaken his oar for a moment, caught her and laid her in safety. As Lucas followed with his wife in his arms the roof seemed to slip from under him. A moment later they were all sweeping forward over the spot where the house had stood, and a mass of wreckage was plunging and tossing in the current ahead of them. As soon as they had trimmed their raft so that there was no danger of its upsetting McDonald again took the rudder and tried to steer for the shore, but they had been caught in the current, that was rushing like a mill race, and were being tossed along like a cork. Seeing that his wife and daughter were safe, Lucas picked up the lantern that had remained lighted through all the turmoil and held it up so that he could see the face of his rescuer.

"It's Sam McDonald!" he shouted to his wife and daughter over the roar of the waters.

"You have saved our lives, God bless you! You were not a minute too soon!" As Olive heard the name of her rescuer a sudden pain clutched her heart, and she remembered, as one who was drowning might, all that she had ever done to pain him. From time to time he was silhouetted against the sky by the receding lightning flashes, and in the meantime McDonald looked at the address and suddenly stood bolt upright. After a brief pause he put the parcel in his pocket and started toward the back door which led to the stable.

"Where are you going?" asked the station agent in surprise.

"To deliver this parcel!" McDonald called back with a savage laugh as he buttoned his coat and plunged out into the beating rain. A few minutes later the station agent heard McDonald speaking fiercely to his horse as he mounted in the stable yard and then for a few moments heard the splashing of its feet as it galloped away.

McDonald could see the road only in glimpses when there was a blaze of lightning. His frightened horse was constantly stopping, as if overwhelmed by the rain, but still the rider leaned against the storm and rode forward. The storm in his heart was so fierce that the tumult of the elements almost soothed him. Olive Lucas would have her birthday present even if he died in the attempt to deliver it.

It was a strange fate that made McDonald in his capacity of postmaster and express agent a go between for the scornful Olive and his rival. Letters sent to be his wife; but, being young, she insisted on a year's delay before their marriage, and during that year she learned many things about her lover that she had not previously suspected. He was a man whose nature had not been softened by the fierce struggles of his early life. Instead of broadening him adversity had made him narrow and suspicious, and as soon as he conceived he had the right to dictate to her he developed into a jealous tyrant. As postmaster he saw all the letters she wrote and received and practically established a censorship over her mail. His was a love that demanded sacrifices rather than made them, and Olive was beginning to realize her mistake when Harry Lawson, an old playmate who had gone to Chicago some years ago, returned for a holiday. He was so delighted to find his little tomboy friend developed into a demure but lively beauty that he promptly lost his heart to her, and she reciprocated his affection.

A couple of days after Lawson had returned to the city a letter from him arrived at the post office addressed to Olive. McDonald recognized the handwriting and was unusually surly as he delivered the missive. Olive noticed his anger and knew its cause and received the letter with a defiant toss of her head. The result was a bitter quarrel and the end of their engagement. Next day she posted a letter to Lawson, and from that time on their correspondence was fast and furious.

If he had dared, McDonald would have destroyed the letters; but, with all his faults, his sense of duty was too keen to allow him to commit such a wrong. But to be obliged to take a love token from his rival to Olive instead of merely handing it out at the office was simply maddening.

As he neared the river flats where Olive lived the storm was rolling away to the east, and the moon in her first quarter was casting a faint light through the broken clouds. A short distance from the river bank his horse stopped suddenly and stared before him. McDonald raised his head and peered sullenly into the semidarkness. The little valley through which the Spadina wound was in reality the channel it had originally cut for itself through the plateau which it drained. As McDonald looked at it this valley appeared to be filled with a gray fog. While he was wondering vaguely at the unusual occurrence he became conscious of a dull continuous roar and realized that what he saw gleaming before him was not mist, but water. The little river was flooded and was once more filling its ancient channel. He then remembered that all the previous night and previous day there had been an unceasing series of thunderstorms sweeping across the north, where lay the sources of the river.

Owing to the improved drainage system the rainfall had all poured into the river at once, and the result was a flood as sudden and overwhelming as comes with the breaking of a mighty dam. As he looked at the flood of water he knew that the Lucas house on the river flats must at least be surrounded by water. Urging his horse to a gallop, he reached the river bank and found there a group of farmers who were looking out on the scene of destruction. By the dim moonlight and flashes of lightning that were still vivid they could see all kinds of wreckage floating in the boiling torrent. The Lucas home was already submerged to the second story, and Olive and her parents could be seen huddled on the roof awaiting a rescue that seemed impossible. The few boats owned by the farmers had been swept away by the waves that had rushed down the valley. The water had risen ten feet in as many minutes and was still rising. When McDonald realized the situation he was conscious of a fierce feeling of exultation. This new difficulty would only serve to make his martyrdom more complete, and Olive would get her gift from his rival with a greater sacrifice on his part. He felt that it would be a glorious revenge.

Having been a raftsmen on the lakes in his youth, the stormiest water had no terrors for him, and he began to cast about for some means of reaching those who were in such deadly peril. He remembered that the farmer whose barn stood a few rods away had a tank wagon box that was used to carry water to the thrashing machine engine. It was made water tight, and, as it could keep water in, it could also, if closed, keep water out. It would make an excellent float for a raft.

Calling on the men who were standing on the river bank to come and help him, he ran to the barn, telling them on the way what he wished to do. Willing hands carried the tank to the edge of the water, and others lifted one of the wide barn doors from its hinges. This door they spiked securely on the top of the tank, and with a few strokes of an ax McDonald made a rude oar from a plank. This oar he fastened to the end of the raft with a rope, and, taking with him the lantern with which the farmer had been lighting him at his work, he got aboard his strange craft and was pushed out into the stream. With his heavy oar, which he used chiefly as a rudder, he worked his raft out into the current, which bore it toward the Lucas house. Mr. Lucas also had a lantern, and as he saw that rescue was coming he waved it frantically. Calculating his direction to a nicety and fighting the unfavourable currents with the skill of a raftsmen and the strength of a giant, McDonald forced the angry water to drive him straight toward his destination. The raft struck the house squarely, and as it did the building yielded perceptibly and tottered to its foundation. Realizing the danger, Lucas grasped Olive and hurried her forward upon the barn door, where McDonald, who had forsaken his oar for a moment, caught her and laid her in safety. As Lucas followed with his wife in his arms the roof seemed to slip from under him. A moment later they were all sweeping forward over the spot where the house had stood, and a mass of wreckage was plunging and tossing in the current ahead of them. As soon as they had trimmed their raft so that there was no danger of its upsetting McDonald again took the rudder and tried to steer for the shore, but they had been caught in the current, that was rushing like a mill race, and were being tossed along like a cork. Seeing that his wife and daughter were safe, Lucas picked up the lantern that had remained lighted through all the turmoil and held it up so that he could see the face of his rescuer.

"It's Sam McDonald!" he shouted to his wife and daughter over the roar of the waters.

"You have saved our lives, God bless you! You were not a minute too soon!" As Olive heard the name of her rescuer a sudden pain clutched her heart, and she remembered, as one who was drowning might, all that she had ever done to pain him. From time to time he was silhouetted against the sky by the receding lightning flashes, and in the meantime McDonald looked at the address and suddenly stood bolt upright. After a brief pause he put the parcel in his pocket and started toward the back door which led to the stable.

"Where are you going?" asked the station agent in surprise.

"To deliver this parcel!" McDonald called back with a savage laugh as he buttoned his coat and plunged out into the beating rain. A few minutes later the station agent heard McDonald speaking fiercely to his horse as he mounted in the stable yard and then for a few moments heard the splashing of its feet as it galloped away.

McDonald could see the road only in glimpses when there was a blaze of lightning. His frightened horse was constantly stopping, as if overwhelmed by the rain, but still the rider leaned against the storm and rode forward. The storm in his heart was so fierce that the tumult of the elements almost soothed him. Olive Lucas would have her birthday present even if he died in the attempt to deliver it.

It was a strange fate that made McDonald in his capacity of postmaster and express agent a go between for the scornful Olive and his rival. Letters sent to be his wife; but, being young, she insisted on a year's delay before their marriage, and during that year she learned many things about her lover that she had not previously suspected. He was a man whose nature had not been softened by the fierce struggles of his early life. Instead of broadening him adversity had made him narrow and suspicious, and as soon as he conceived he had the right to dictate to her he developed into a jealous tyrant. As postmaster he saw all the letters she wrote and received and practically established a censorship over her mail. His was a love that demanded sacrifices rather than made them, and Olive was beginning to realize her mistake when Harry Lawson, an old playmate who had gone to Chicago some years ago, returned for a holiday. He was so delighted to find his little tomboy friend developed into a demure but lively beauty that he promptly lost his heart to her, and she reciprocated his affection.

A couple of days after Lawson had returned to the city a letter from him arrived at the post office addressed to Olive. McDonald recognized the handwriting and was unusually surly as he delivered the missive. Olive noticed his anger and knew its cause and received the letter with a defiant toss of her head. The result was a bitter quarrel and the end of their engagement. Next day she posted a letter to Lawson, and from that time on their correspondence was fast and furious.

If he had dared, McDonald would have destroyed the letters; but, with all his faults, his sense of duty was too keen to allow him to commit such a wrong. But to be obliged to take a love token from his rival to Olive instead of merely handing it out at the office was simply maddening.

As he neared the river flats where Olive lived the storm was rolling away to the east, and the moon in her first quarter was casting a faint light through the broken clouds. A short distance from the river bank his horse stopped suddenly and stared before him. McDonald raised his head and peered sullenly into the semidarkness. The little valley through which the Spadina wound was in reality the channel it had originally cut for itself through the plateau which it drained. As McDonald looked at it this valley appeared to be filled with a gray fog. While he was wondering vaguely at the unusual occurrence he became conscious of a dull continuous roar and realized that what he saw gleaming before him was not mist, but water. The little river was flooded and was once more filling its ancient channel. He then remembered that all the previous night and previous day there had been an unceasing series of thunderstorms sweeping across the north, where lay the sources of the river.

Owing to the improved drainage system the rainfall had all poured into the river at once, and the result was a flood as sudden and overwhelming as comes with the breaking of a mighty dam. As he looked at the flood of water he knew that the Lucas house on the river flats must at least be surrounded by water. Urging his horse to a gallop, he reached the river bank and found there a group of farmers who were looking out on the scene of destruction. By the dim moonlight and flashes of lightning that were still vivid they could see all kinds of wreckage floating in the boiling torrent. The Lucas home was already submerged to the second story, and Olive and her parents could be seen huddled on the roof awaiting a rescue that seemed impossible. The few boats owned by the farmers had been swept away by the waves that had rushed down the valley. The water had risen ten feet in as many minutes and was still rising. When McDonald realized the situation he was conscious of a fierce feeling of exultation. This new difficulty would only serve to make his martyrdom more complete, and Olive would get her gift from his rival with a greater sacrifice on his part. He felt that it would be a glorious revenge.

Having been a raftsmen on the lakes in his youth, the stormiest water had no terrors for him, and he began to cast about for some means of reaching those who were in such deadly peril. He remembered that the farmer whose barn stood a few rods away had a tank wagon box that was used to carry water to the thrashing machine engine. It was made water tight, and, as it could keep water in, it could also, if closed, keep water out. It would make an excellent float for a raft.

Calling on the men who were standing on the river bank to come and help him, he ran to the barn, telling them on the way what he wished to do. Willing hands carried the tank to the edge of the water, and others lifted one of the wide barn doors from its hinges. This door they spiked securely on the top of the tank, and with a few strokes of an ax McDonald made a rude oar from a plank. This oar he fastened to the end of the raft with a rope, and, taking with him the lantern with which the farmer had been lighting him at his work, he got aboard his strange craft and was pushed out into the stream. With his heavy oar, which he used chiefly as a rudder, he worked his raft out into the current, which bore it toward the Lucas house. Mr. Lucas also had a lantern, and as he saw that rescue was coming he waved it frantically. Calculating his direction to a nicety and fighting the unfavourable currents with the skill of a raftsmen and the strength of a giant, McDonald forced the angry water to drive him straight toward his destination. The raft struck the house squarely, and as it did the building yielded perceptibly and tottered to its foundation. Realizing the danger, Lucas grasped Olive and hurried her forward upon the barn door, where McDonald, who had forsaken his oar for a moment, caught her and laid her in safety. As Lucas followed with his wife in his arms the roof seemed to slip from under him. A moment later they were all sweeping forward over the spot where the house had stood, and a mass of wreckage was plunging and tossing in the current ahead of them. As soon as they had trimmed their raft so that there was no danger of its upsetting McDonald again took the rudder and tried to steer for the shore, but they had been caught in the current, that was rushing like a mill race, and were being tossed along like a cork. Seeing that his wife and daughter were safe, Lucas picked up the lantern that had remained lighted through all the turmoil and held it up so that he could see the face of his rescuer.

"It's Sam McDonald!" he shouted to his wife and daughter over the roar of the waters.

"You have saved our lives, God bless you! You were not a minute too soon!" As Olive heard the name of her rescuer a sudden pain clutched her heart, and she remembered, as one who was drowning might, all that she had ever done to pain him. From time to time he was silhouetted against the sky by the receding lightning flashes, and in the meantime McDonald looked at the address and suddenly stood bolt upright. After a brief pause he put the parcel in his pocket and started toward the back door which led to the stable.

"Where are you going?" asked the station agent in surprise.

"To deliver this parcel!" McDonald called back with a savage laugh as he buttoned his coat and plunged out into the beating rain. A few minutes later the station agent heard McDonald speaking fiercely to his horse as he mounted in the stable yard and then for a few moments heard the splashing of its feet as it galloped away.

McDonald could see the road only in glimpses when there was a blaze of lightning. His frightened horse was constantly stopping, as if overwhelmed by the rain, but still the rider leaned against the storm and rode forward. The storm in his heart was so fierce that the tumult of the elements almost soothed him. Olive Lucas would have her birthday present even if he died in the attempt to deliver it.

It was a strange fate that made McDonald in his capacity of postmaster and express agent a go between for the scornful Olive and his rival. Letters sent to be his wife; but, being young, she insisted on a year's delay before their marriage, and during that year she learned many things about her lover that she had not previously suspected. He was a man whose nature had not been softened by the fierce struggles of his early life. Instead of broadening him adversity had made him narrow and suspicious, and as soon as he conceived he had the right to dictate to her he developed into a jealous tyrant. As postmaster he saw all the letters she wrote and received and practically established a censorship over her mail. His was a love that demanded sacrifices rather than made them, and Olive was beginning to realize her mistake when Harry Lawson, an old playmate who had gone to Chicago some years ago, returned for a holiday. He was so delighted to find his little tomboy friend developed into a demure but lively beauty that he promptly lost his heart to her, and she reciprocated his affection.

A couple of days after Lawson had returned to the city a letter from him arrived at the post office addressed to Olive. McDonald recognized the handwriting and was unusually surly as he delivered the missive. Olive noticed his anger and knew its cause and received the letter with a defiant toss of her head. The result was a bitter quarrel and the end of their engagement. Next day she posted a letter to Lawson, and from that time on their correspondence was fast and furious.

If he had dared, McDonald would have destroyed the letters; but, with all his faults, his sense of duty was too keen to allow him to commit such a wrong. But to be obliged to take a love token from his rival to Olive instead of merely handing it out at the office was simply maddening.

As he neared the river flats where Olive lived the storm was rolling away to the east, and the moon in her first quarter was casting a faint light through the broken clouds. A short distance from the river bank his horse stopped suddenly and stared before him. McDonald raised his head and peered sullenly into the semidarkness. The little valley through which the Spadina wound was in reality the channel it had originally cut for itself through the plateau which it drained. As McDonald looked at it this valley appeared to be filled with a gray fog. While he was wondering vaguely at the unusual occurrence he became conscious of a dull continuous roar and realized that what he saw gleaming before him was not mist, but water. The little river was flooded and was once more filling its ancient channel. He then remembered that all the previous night and previous day there had been an unceasing series of thunderstorms sweeping across the north, where lay the sources of the river.

Owing to the improved drainage system the rainfall had all poured into the river at once, and the result was a flood as sudden and overwhelming as comes with the breaking of a mighty dam. As he looked at the flood of water he knew that the Lucas house on the river flats must at least be surrounded by water. Urging his horse to a gallop, he reached the river bank and found there a group of farmers who were looking out on the scene of destruction. By the dim moonlight and flashes of lightning that were still vivid they could see all kinds of wreckage floating in the boiling torrent. The Lucas home was already submerged to the second story, and Olive and her parents could be seen huddled on the roof awaiting a rescue that seemed impossible. The few boats owned by the farmers had been swept away by the waves that had rushed down the valley. The water had risen ten feet in as many minutes and was still rising. When McDonald realized the situation he was conscious of a fierce feeling of exultation. This new difficulty would only serve to make his martyrdom more complete, and Olive would get her gift from his rival with a greater sacrifice on his part. He felt that it would be a glorious revenge.

Having been a raftsmen on the lakes in his youth, the stormiest water had no terrors for him, and he began to cast about for some means of reaching those who were in such deadly peril. He remembered that the farmer whose barn stood a few rods away had a tank wagon box that was used to carry water to the thrashing machine engine. It was made water tight, and, as it could keep water in, it could also, if closed, keep water out. It would make an excellent float for a raft.

Calling on the men who were standing on the river bank to come and help him, he ran to the barn, telling them on the way what he wished to do. Willing hands carried the tank to the edge of the water, and others lifted one of the wide barn doors from its hinges. This door they spiked securely on the top of the tank, and with a few strokes of an ax McDonald made a rude oar from a plank. This oar he fastened to the end of the raft with a rope, and, taking with him the lantern with which the farmer had been lighting him at his work, he got aboard his strange craft and was pushed out into the stream. With his heavy oar, which he used chiefly as a rudder, he worked his raft out into the current, which bore it toward the Lucas house. Mr. Lucas also had a lantern, and as he saw that rescue was coming he waved it frantically. Calculating his direction to a nicety and fighting the unfavourable currents with the skill of a raftsmen and the strength of a giant, McDonald forced the angry water to drive him straight toward his destination. The raft struck the house squarely, and as it did the building yielded perceptibly and tottered to its foundation. Realizing the danger, Lucas grasped Olive and hurried her forward upon the barn door, where McDonald, who had forsaken his oar for a moment, caught her and laid her in safety. As Lucas followed with his wife in his arms the roof seemed to slip from under him. A moment later they were all sweeping forward over the spot where the house had stood, and a mass of wreckage was plunging and tossing in the current ahead of them. As soon as they had trimmed their raft so that there was no danger of its upsetting McDonald again took the rudder and tried to steer for the shore, but they had been caught in the current, that was rushing like a mill race, and were being tossed along like a cork. Seeing that his wife and daughter were safe, Lucas picked up the lantern that had remained lighted through all the turmoil and held it up so that he could see the face of his rescuer.

"It's Sam McDonald!" he shouted to his wife and daughter over the roar of the waters.

"You have saved our lives, God bless you! You were not a minute too soon!" As Olive heard the name of her rescuer a sudden pain clutched her heart, and she remembered, as one who was drowning might, all that she had ever done to pain him. From time to time he was silhouetted against the sky by the receding lightning flashes, and in the meantime McDonald looked at the address and suddenly stood bolt upright. After a brief pause he put the parcel in his pocket and started toward the back door which led to the stable.

"Where are you going?" asked the station agent in surprise.

"To deliver this parcel!" McDonald called back with a savage laugh as he buttoned his coat and plunged out into the beating rain. A few minutes later the station agent heard McDonald speaking fiercely to his horse as he mounted in the stable yard and then for a few moments heard the splashing of its feet as it galloped away.

McDonald could see the road only in glimpses when there was a blaze of lightning. His frightened horse was constantly stopping, as if overwhelmed by the rain, but still the rider leaned against the storm and rode forward. The storm in his heart was so fierce that the tumult of the elements almost soothed him. Olive Lucas would have her birthday present even if he died in the attempt to deliver it.

It was a strange fate that made McDonald in his capacity of postmaster and express agent a go between for the scornful Olive and his rival. Letters sent to be his wife; but, being young, she insisted on a year's delay before their marriage, and during that year she learned many things about her lover that she had not previously suspected. He was a man whose nature had not been softened by the fierce struggles of his early life. Instead of broadening him adversity had made him narrow and suspicious, and as soon as he conceived he had the right to dictate to her he developed into a jealous tyrant. As postmaster he saw all the letters she wrote and received and practically established a censorship over her mail. His was a love that demanded sacrifices rather than made them, and Olive was beginning to realize her mistake when Harry Lawson, an old playmate who had gone to Chicago some years ago, returned for a holiday. He was so delighted to find his little tomboy friend developed into a demure but lively beauty that he promptly lost his heart to her, and she reciprocated his affection.

A couple of days after Lawson had returned to the city a letter from him arrived at the post office addressed to Olive. McDonald recognized the handwriting and was unusually surly as he delivered the missive. Olive noticed his anger and knew its cause and received the letter with a defiant toss of her head. The result was a bitter quarrel and the end of their engagement. Next day she posted a letter to Lawson, and from that time on their correspondence was fast and furious.

If he had dared, McDonald would have destroyed the letters; but, with all his faults, his sense of duty was too keen to allow him to commit such a wrong. But to be obliged to take a love token from his rival to Olive instead of merely handing it out at the office was simply maddening.

As he neared the river flats where Olive lived the storm was rolling away to the east, and the moon in her first quarter was casting a faint light through the broken clouds. A short distance from the river bank his horse stopped suddenly and stared before him. McDonald raised his head and peered sullenly into the semidarkness. The little valley through which the Spadina wound was in reality the channel it had originally cut for itself through the plateau which it drained. As McDonald looked at it this valley appeared to be filled with a gray fog. While he was wondering vaguely at the unusual occurrence he became conscious of a dull continuous roar and realized that what he saw gleaming before him was not mist, but water. The little river was flooded and was once more filling its ancient channel. He then remembered that all the previous night and previous day there had been an unceasing series of thunderstorms sweeping across the north, where lay the sources of the river.

Owing to the improved drainage system the rainfall had all poured into the river at once, and the result was a flood as sudden and overwhelming as comes with the breaking of a mighty dam. As he looked at the flood of water he knew that the Lucas house on the river flats must at least be surrounded by water. Urging his horse to a gallop, he reached the river bank and found there a group of farmers who were looking out on the scene of destruction. By the dim moonlight and flashes of lightning that were still vivid they could see all kinds of wreckage floating in the boiling torrent. The Lucas home was already submerged to the second story, and Olive and her parents could be seen huddled on the roof awaiting a rescue that seemed impossible. The few boats owned by the farmers had been swept away by the waves that had rushed down the valley. The water had risen ten feet in as many minutes and was still rising. When McDonald realized the situation he was conscious of a fierce feeling of exultation. This new difficulty would only serve to make his martyrdom more complete, and Olive would get her gift from his rival with a greater sacrifice on his part. He felt that it would be a glorious revenge.

Having been a raftsmen on the lakes in his youth, the stormiest water had no terrors for him, and he began to cast about for some means of reaching those who were in such deadly peril. He remembered that the farmer whose barn stood a few rods away had a tank wagon box that was used to carry water to the thrashing machine engine. It was made water tight, and, as it could keep water in, it could also, if closed, keep water out. It would make an excellent float for a raft.

Calling on the men who were standing on the river bank to come and help him, he ran to the barn, telling them on the way what he wished to do. Willing hands carried the tank to the edge of the water, and others lifted one of the wide barn doors from its hinges. This door they spiked securely on the top of the tank, and with a few strokes of an ax McDonald made a rude oar from a plank. This oar he fastened to the end of the raft with a rope, and, taking with him the lantern with which the farmer had been lighting him at his work, he got aboard his strange craft and was pushed out into the stream. With his heavy oar, which he used chiefly as a rudder, he worked his raft out into the current, which bore it toward the Lucas house. Mr. Lucas also had a lantern, and as he saw that rescue was coming he waved it frantically. Calculating his direction to a nicety and fighting the unfavourable currents with the skill of a raftsmen and the strength of a giant, McDonald forced the angry water to drive him straight toward his destination. The raft struck the house squarely, and as it did the building yielded perceptibly and tottered to its foundation. Realizing the danger, Lucas grasped Olive and hurried her forward upon the barn door, where McDonald, who had forsaken his oar for a moment, caught her and laid her in safety. As Lucas followed with his wife in his arms the roof seemed to slip from under him. A moment later they were all sweeping forward over the spot where the house had stood, and a mass of wreckage was plunging and tossing in the current ahead of them. As soon as they had trimmed their raft so that there was no danger of its upsetting McDonald again took the rudder and tried to steer for the shore, but they had been caught in the current, that was rushing like a mill race, and were being tossed along like a cork. Seeing that his wife and daughter were safe, Lucas picked up the lantern that had remained lighted through all the turmoil and held it up so that he could see the face of his rescuer.

him that she would rather be lying at the bottom of the river than to have received her life at his hands when he had saved it in such a spirit, she slipped the ring on her finger and turned away from him.

The Old Man's Snake Story.
"And you say the snake was fifteen feet long?"

"Well, uh, he looked dat long w'en he stretched his full length ter strike me."

"But—a snake never strikes unless he's in coil."

"Marse Tom," said the old man, "we better end dis conversation right whar it is. Either I'm a natchul bo'n liar or long drinkin' bez made you a fust class authority on snakes!"—Atlanta Constitution.

PROF. J. ANGEL

Eye Specialist!

of Williamsport, will make his monthly visit here for

TWO DAYS,
Tuesday and Wednesday,

June 30 & July 1

from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., with headquarters in

The Bellefonte Republican

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—No communication published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer. Correspondents should write upon but one side of the paper, and avoid the use of pale or fancy inks.

EARLE C. TUTEN.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

—There was a hail storm at Pleasant Gap on Friday.

—Wm. Bilger is at present taking the tubing out of the "Wash Ore" mining wells.

—The Reformed Sunday School will hold their children's day exercises next Sunday.

—The Presbyterian Sunday School will hold their children's day exercises next Sunday.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hunt, of Renovo, are rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing baby boy.

—Mr. Glenn, while working at Tyrone, got hurt and was taken to the Bellefonte Hospital for treatment. His home is at Curtin.

—You can't blame doctors for not taking their own medicine. How many of us would be willing to take our own advice?

—Annie Mayhew and John Wilson of this place were married at Tyrone Thursday. They left for Chicago on a wedding tour.

—Willard McDowell, of Howard, carried off the $10 Mathematical prize offered by Rev. James P. Hughes at the Bellefonte Academy.

—The American Lime & Stone Company are building a large stone crusher at the 11th and 12th streets, which will be ready for operation in a few days.

—Judge John G. Love gave his decision on Tuesday in the case of the borough of Bellefonte vs. Col. Geo. A. Bayard, declining to give the borough a new trial.

—The Newport Ledger says the horses in the neighborhood of that town are afflicted with distemper. On the Middle ridge almost every farmer has a sick horse.

—If anyone has noticed the smile on the face of L. H. Wian, it is because during his absence on one of his trips for the Standard Oil Company, a baby girl came to brighten his home.

—The spire of the First Presbyterian church at Watsonstown was struck by lightning during a thunderstorm Wednesday afternoon and badly damaged. The loss which is considerable is covered by insurance.

—Remember the Street Carnival first week of July. It is a dozen of shows combined. Several hundred people consisting of performers and assistants come with it. It is new and original, filled with variety and healthy entertainment.

—The saw mill of G. E. Whitmore, located about two and one-half miles from Troutville, Clearfield county, was totally destroyed by fire one day recently, together with about 100,000 feet of hardwood timber. Loss, $3,000, with no insurance.

—The special term of court which convened Monday was of short duration owing to the non-arrival of Judge Bell of Blair county, who was expected to try the cases, but failed to turn up. The jurors were discharged and the cases adjourned until later.

—The quarantine has been removed from the town of Cross Forks. This is certainly good news to people of that much affected town. This week finishes the fumigation of lumber camps and infected houses in the village where the disease existed and there are none now ill with it.

—Bert G. Hemling, assistant foreman of the new steel car plant at Altoona, fell from a scaffold at the plant Friday. His shoulder was dislocated, his forehead above the right eye was gashed and his breast injured, besides minor cuts and bruises. He was unconscious for a short time. He was removed to a hospital where his wounds were dressed.

—The season is now on for the usual crop of accidents from premature firecracker explosions and so on. Charles Hart, 11 years old, of Altoona, had his face burned with powder from a toy cannon at Crawford avenue and Fifteenth street Thursday evening while celebrating prematurely the national holiday. He was taken to the hospital for repairs.

—A colored laborer aged about 35 years named Rison Bennett, whose home is at Gallitzin, while in the act of pulling a revolver from his coat pocket Sunday morning the weapon was discharged. The ball entered the right side near the eighth rib and lodged somewhere in the intestines. He was removed to the Altoona hospital, where the wound was probed but the ball could not be definitely located.

—Charles M. Schwab is arranging to treat the people of Loretto to a display of fine fireworks on the Glorious Fourth. During the evening the pyrotechnics will be of the usual fiery kind, but in the afternoon there will be a display of paper, which, when thrown into the air, expands into shapes of pigs, horses, policemen, etc. The evening exhibition will last over two hours and will be in charge of two experts sent from the factory. Loretto is exceedingly fortunate in having such a thoughtful adopted son.

PERSONALS.

Goldie Cain is visiting friends at Tyrone.

Miss Louise Spangler, left Wednesday for State College.

Misses Mame Fox and Maud Harper are visiting at Hecla.

Burgess Walker was a Wednesday visitor at State College.

Hon. Wm. Allison, of Spring Mills, was a visitor in Bellefonte Friday.

Mart Holderman of "Gerbrich Town" passed Wednesday at the College.

R. M. McGee, of Philadelphia, was an arrival in Bellefonte Friday morning.

Miss Rebecca Stover, of Curwensville, is visiting her cousin Bernice Shuey.

Col. James F. Weaver, of Milesburg, was a visitor in Bellefonte Friday.

Misses Rose Beezer and Mayme McGovern spent Wednesday at State College.

Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Etters and family attended commencement at State College.

Mr. John McEwen, of Hubersburg, transacted business in Bellefonte Thursday.

Mrs. Wilford Barnhart, and children Violet and Wilford are visiting at Oak Grove.

George T. Brew, of Oakland, Md., is transacting business in town at the present time.

Misses Mildred Ogden and Winifred Gates spent Friday with friends at Milesburg.

Harry Stevenson who had been painting at Patton, returned to his home in Bellefonte.

Mack Rosebaum, of Pittsburg, is here taking Eugene Motchman's place until he comes home.

David Rossman of Black Hawk, transacted business in Bellefonte on Wednesday.

Archie Orbison, who has been attending school at Worrester, Ohio, returned home.

David Homer one of College Townships successful farmers came to Bellefonte on business Friday.

Miss Mary McKee of Pittsburg, is visiting at the home of Mr. H. Y. Stitzer on High street.

Mrs. James Kelley and daughter of Aze Mann visited at the home of Mr. James McNichols.

Miss May Taylor has returned to her home in Bellefonte after a visit to friends in Altoona.

Miss Wagner of Milesburg who was spending a few days in Bellefonte returned home Friday night.

Hon. S. R. Peale and wife, of Lock Haven, were registered at the Bush House on Wednesday.

Mrs. William Schofield and daughter, Miss Edna, of Altoona, are visiting Bellefonte friends this week.

Miss Anna Stitzer, one of Laureton's pretty and charming young ladies, is visiting in Bellefonte.

Mrs. Ella Black, of Tyrone, was a pleasant visitor at the home of Rev. and Mrs. John A. Wood Friday.

Mrs. Thomas Shoemaker, and children Martha and Philip have returned home from a visit in Iowa.

Robert Humphrey, a student at the Academy, left Thursday afternoon for his home in Logansport, Ind.

Postmaster W. W. Montgomery and Dr. Joseph Brockerhoff transacted business in Tyrone Thursday night.

Dr. Eloise Meek, of Johnstown, spent last week visiting her parents and friends at Bellefonte and State College.

Mrs. Clyde Jodon of Reedsville arrived in Bellefonte where she expects to visit friends for a short time.

Ward Willard, a student at the Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport has arrived home for the summer vacation.

Edward Free, former student at the Bellefonte Academy and whose home is in DuBois was in town visiting friends Friday.

Bert Blair left Friday afternoon for Philadelphia where he has secured a much more responsible position than he formerly held.

Mrs. John Eberhart of Punxsutawney accompanied by her three sons are visiting at the home of Mr. Daniel Eberhart on High street.

J. Thomas Mitchell returned home Friday morning from Boston where he attended the wedding of his brother, Joseph D. Mitchell.

Miss Emily Bassett who has been spending the winter with her grandfather Rev. Jas. P. Hughes left for her home at Sparrows Point Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cummings, Mrs. J. M. Edmiston and Miss Wheaton, all of Cape May, New Jersey, make up a party who are stopping at the Bush House.

Charles Strause and Mahaffey Ferguson, students at the Academy left Thursday for their homes in Mahaffey where they will spend their summer vacation.

Mrs. Edward Holt and her daughter, Miss Stella, of Northumberland, and Mrs. Gardner of Beech Creek, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kennedy Johnston on East Bishop street.

Mrs. M. E. Miller of Bellefonte, is visiting at Boalsburg.

C. V. Gruver, of Howard, transacted business in town Thursday.

Miss Marjorie Stroh, of Centre Hill is visiting friends in Bellefonte.

Mrs. Mervin Betz, of Jacksonville, was a Bellefonte visitor Wednesday.

Mr. Harry Gentzel of Altoona, visited friends in Bellefonte last week.

John Bricker of Boalsburg, was a Bellefonte visitor on Wednesday.

Mrs. James B. Lane is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Reeder.

Miss Grace Mitchell is home from Rosemont to spend her summer vacation.

Isaac Maitland, of Williamsport, spent Sunday at the home of Daniel Garman in this place.

Miss Mary Linn Blanchard, left Thursday for New York, from there she will sail for Europe.

Miss Margaret Barnett, who was spending a few days at Curtin arrived home Tuesday.

Miss Adaline Woodring, of this place, has gone to Renovo, to visit her sister Mrs. W. T. Hunt.

Miss Lide Mulvihill of Philadelphia is spending the summer at the home of Mr. James Kelley on Logan street.

Mrs. Louisa Bush arrived home Wednesday night from Philadelphia in which city she had been visiting for the past three weeks.

Mrs. S. D. Ray, and daughters, Harriet and Mary, who were pleasant visitors at State College returned home Tuesday evening.

Miss Jennie Hull, of Aaronsburg, was among the guests in town Thursday to attend the wedding of Miss Lide Bell to Mr. Calvin Troop.

Misses Katherine Barnett, Katherine Curtin, Isabella Merriman and Elizabeth Ardell were chaperoned to State College by Mrs. Ardell.

Mr. and Mrs. Quigley, Miss Mary Blanchard, Miss Gertrude Quigley and Mrs. Burnett, drove to State College to attend the base ball game.

The Misses Helen and Josephine White arrived home Wednesday morning from West Chester where they have been attending the Normal school.

Miss Lide Moore is entertaining her friend Miss Carrie Juber, of Williamsport. They attended the State College Commencement last week.

Mrs. Oscar Stover of Boalsburg accompanied by her little son was the guest for a short time on Tuesday, at the home of Commissioner Meyers on Lamb St.

Mrs. William B. Dix, of Dayton, Ohio, was an arrival in Bellefonte Thursday. She is visiting her brother, J. W. Gehart, and her sister, Mrs. L. T. Munson.

Mrs. Martin Overly and her little daughter left Friday for Williamsport where they will make their future home. Mr. Overly is employed in a large foundry there.

Rev. and Mrs. Jno. A. Wood attended the Dixon-Douglas wedding at Tyrone on Tuesday. Rev. Wood performed the ceremony that made these young people man and wife.

Mrs. R. G. H. Hayes, Mrs. Sarah Hoffer, Miss Ellen and Master John Hayes left Thursday for Atlantic City where they will spend several weeks enjoying the sea breezes.

Mrs. Graffis of Tyrone accompanied by her friend Mrs. Miller of Harrisburg, tarried between trains Thursday with the family of Mr. Hamilton Otto. The ladies were en route for Niagara Falls.

Mrs. J. V. Thomas, Misses Mary Thomas, Mary Smith and Elizabeth Smith all of Philadelphia arrived in Bellefonte Wednesday night and will spend the summer at the residence of Mrs. Louisa Harris on Allegheny Street.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles T. Aikens, Mrs. J. A. Snively and daughter Miss Roxie and Mrs. G. Milton Bair of Hanover Pa. and Mr. E. S. Frye of York were guests last week at the home of Mrs. J. A. Aikens on Allegheny street.

Mrs. D. L. Light, of Pittsburg; Mrs. Wm. Shreck, of Lemont; and Mrs. Uriah Evey, of Peru, were the guests Thursday of their brother, J. W. Houser, of this place. This is the first time in 25 years that these four have been together at one time.

Misses Emma Montgomery, Mame Ceader, Emma J. Aikens, Helen Ceader, Mary Crider, Helen Schaeffer and Mrs. C. M. Parrish were a group of happy young people who drove to State College on Wednesday to witness the Commencement exercises and the base ball game.

George Munch who for the past year has been a student at the Bellefonte Academy left for his home at DuBois Thursday. Since George has been in Bellefonte he has made innumerable friends who are sorry to see him go away, and it is sincerely hoped he will return to this institution next year.

Col. Hiram Young, of York, President of the State Agricultural Society, while on his way home from attending the Commencement Exercises at State College, spent Wednesday night at the Bush House. Col. Young is the proprietor of the York Daily and Weekly Dispatch one of the most progressive inland papers of Pennsylvania. He paid this office a pleasant call Thursday before leaving for home.

Boyd A. Musser accompanied by his wife's sister, Miss Grace McBride departed for York on Saturday.

Mary Harris of Bellefonte is visiting friends at Lewisburg.

Miss Grace Sheffer and Miss Maud Houser, left Monday for Clearfield.

Lewis Cross, of Altoona, spent a few days with his father in Hecla Park.

Joseph Rightmour and son Galer transacted business in State College.

Ed Marshall of Buffalo Run transacted business in Bellefonte Saturday.

District Attorney N. B. Spangler was a passenger west bound Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. John Noll is visiting friends in Altoona, leaving for that place on Saturday.

Capt. Harry Simler, of Philadelphia, was an over-Sunday visitor in Bellefonte.

Col. Edward J. Prumer, of Tyrone, visited his Bellefonte friends and relatives over Sunday.

Miss Maude Dukeman, of Winburn, is visiting her friend, Miss Elsie Bible of East Bishop street.

Robert Garman, the Tyrone jeweler, was a visitor at the home of his father Daniel Garman on Sunday.

Bert Robb, who is employed in Williamsport for the Potter Abstract Company spent Sunday in town.

W. H. Beigle, of Sandy Ridge, was in town this week serving his country as a juror. He paid this office a pleasant call Monday.

Misses Helen Harper and Sallie Fitzgerald are attending the Commencement exercises of the Central State Normal school at Lock Haven.

Charles Noll, of Stockington, Ill., brother of Mrs. Harry Haag was called here by the serious illness of his mother Mrs. Noll of Pleasant Gap.

Dr. Kurtz and McEntire, of Howard, and Dr. Huff, of Milesburg, attended the meeting of the Clinton County Medical Society at Lock Haven Friday.

Mrs. Tillie Mosser, of Ocoola, Ohio, is visiting at the home of Daniel Heckman on East Lamb street. Mrs. Mosser is a former Centre county lady and this is her first visit home in forty years. No doubt she will note many changes in that length of time.

Miss Isabel Hill who has been one of the efficient teachers at the Bellefonte Academy this term has left for her home at Norwich, Conn. She will join a party of young people and make a tour through Canada during the summer months.

Samuel A. Loper left Bellefonte Monday afternoon for Philadelphia where he has secured a position as salesman in a large clothing store. His Bellefonte friends are sorry to see him leave but no doubt we shall hear of him sometime as Mayor of Philadelphia.

Miss Frances B. Elmore, one of our efficient school teachers, departed Monday morning for quite an extended visit with friends at Harrisburg, Williamsport, Newberry, and Trout Run. At the latter place she will be the guest of Ruth Case formerly of Bellefonte.

Mrs. Web Karstetter and her children who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Furey at their country home "Idlewild" near town left Friday for her home in Curwensville. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. John Larimer and the latter's little child who will pay her a visit.

The following Academy students left for their homes Thursday their school term being over: Earle Quigley, Butler; Wm. Lander, Riddlesburg; Robert Marshall, Kittanning; Reese Thomas, Lansford; John Hogsett, Uniontown; Herbert McIntosh, Pittsburg; Roy McCandless, Butler.

Miss Myrtle Williams, one of the clerks at Katz's store, left Sunday afternoon for Altoona where she will visit friends. Before returning home she will attend the wedding of her cousin, Miss Boyles, at Juniata, at whose wedding she will act as one of the bridesmaids.

Clair Williams, of Jersey City, chief clerk to the Superintendent of Motive Power of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, who has been visiting his father-in-law William Lyon, of North Allegheny street, returned home Monday evening. Mrs. Williams is also here and will remain for some time.

Mrs. Martha Calvert of New York in company with her sister Mrs. Morris Cowdick, of Niagara Falls left Bellefonte Saturday to visit friends in Tyrone, Butler, Clearfield and other places. Mrs. Cowdick will likely return to Bellefonte before she goes back to Niagara Falls, both of these ladies have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otto of Lamb St.

William P. Fisher the fruit grower, whose apple orchards, elder and vinegar, have made him known all over this and surrounding counties, came to town Monday morning from his Unionville home to transact some business. He reports that his son, Ezra who is suffering from stomach trouble is improving. He was a caller at this office and renewed his subscription to the Bellefonte Republican which he has taken ever since it was originally founded under the name of Bellefonte Patriot. He has taken this paper over sixty-five years and it is still a welcome visitor in his home.

John Houser, left Tuesday for Alexandria.

Julia and Grace McClellan are visiting at Altoona.

Mary Eberhart is visiting friends at Pine Grove.

Mrs. James Irvin, of Snow Shoe was visiting at this place.

Mr. Messimer, of Jersey Shore spent Monday in this place.

Arthur Thomas, of Scotia is visiting friends in Elmira N. Y.

T. B. Ardell, of Julian, transacted business in town on Monday.

Annie McLaughlin of this place, is visiting friends in Tyrone.

Mr. and Mrs. Landis of Penn street spent Sunday at Lock Haven.

Roy Goss, of Elmira, N. Y. is visiting friends at Pine Grove Mills.

Guy Linn left for Pittsburg Monday afternoon to transact business.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm Reed spent Sunday with friends at Pine Grove Mills.

Mary Weaver left Tuesday to visit friends and relatives at Clearfield.

Rev. Jay R. Woodcock, of Loyalsock, Pa., is visiting friends in Bellefonte.

Mrs. C. F. Montgomery spent Tuesday with Mrs. A. B. Garth at Mill Hall.

Harry Fitzgerald who has been visiting his parents left Tuesday for Troy N. Y.

Ex-Postmaster Hayes Schenck, of Howard, transacted business in town Tuesday.

Verna Stevenson returned home from a three weeks visit with her aunt at Pittsburg.

Miss Elizabeth Ardell is spending a few days with her uncle Mr. T. A. Ardell at Julian.

Guy Harris departed Tuesday for Pittsburg where he has secured a good position.

James Nolan Esq., a prominent attorney of Philadelphia, was in town on business Tuesday.

Master Orvis Keller, of this place, is now in Lock Haven under treatment of Dr. MacKenzie.

Ex-Sheriff William M. Cronister, of Philadelphia, transacted business in town Monday night.

Mrs. Maurice Miller returned to her home on High street after visiting friends at Linden Hall.

Landlord "Dick" Welliver, of the Irvin House, Lock Haven, was a visitor in our little city Tuesday.

Mr. Emanuel Noll spent Sunday very pleasantly with Mr. and Mrs. C. F. York at Warriorsmark.

John T. Laurie, of Tyrone, spent Sunday at his father's, Rev. Wm Laurie's home in this place.

Mrs. Edward Richard returned home on Monday afternoon from a visit to friends in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Seigel and children departed for their home at Tyrone after a weeks visit with friends in Bellefonte.

Misses Sarah and Charlotte Markley, two of Benore's pretty young ladies, were visiting in Bellefonte last week.

Mr. Samuel Sheffer left Tuesday for Hagerstown, Maryland where he goes to transact business of importance.

Miss Grace Smith, of Centre Hall, spent Monday in Bellefonte as the guest of her brother, Witmer Smith.

President George W. Atherton, of the Pennsylvania State College, transacted business in Bellefonte Monday.

Mr. H. A. Larimer, of Lincoln Nebraska, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Spear on West High street.

Marcellus Sankey, one of Potter township's prosperous young Republican farmers, transacted business in Bellefonte Monday.

Gen. James A. Beaver departed Monday afternoon for Washington, Pa., to attend the Commencement exercises of Washington and Jefferson College.

Mrs. Carl Lilledale and Mrs. Frank Houser, and their little daughters of Altoona, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Barlett on Thomas street.

E. M. Krog, formerly of the State College Times office, but who has been working the past month for a Williamsport firm, is visiting friends in Centre county.

Mrs. Edward Rowe, of Sharon, who has been visiting her sisters, Mrs. Naginney and Mrs. Crider, in Bellefonte, for the past month, left for her home on Monday.

Rev. George Israel Brown, accompanied by his wife and children left Monday evening for Winthrop Beach, Mass., where they will enjoy a few weeks vacation and rest.

Ollie Campbell, who is Superintendent of Construction for the Huntingdon & Clearfield Telephone company, with headquarters at Clearfield, spent Sunday with his family at this place.

Arthur Black, of Altoona whose wife recently underwent a serious operation in the Bellefonte hospital and who is now on the rapid road to recovery, spent Sunday with Mrs. Black and her parents at the latter's home in Coileville.

Rev. Sylvester W. Beach arrived in Bellefonte Tuesday from Paris, France, and is a guest of Mrs. Nancy Orbison of East Curtin street. Rev. Beach was at one time a resident of Bellefonte and is quite well known here.

Mrs. Jas. Williams, is visiting John Glenn of Lemont.

Mrs. William Jamison, of this place is visiting in DuBois.

Miss Alice Ishler is off on a visit to friends in Huntingdon.

Jerry Crandle, of Snow Shoe, was a Newberry visitor the past week.

Miss Emma Bodie, of Scotia, was a shopping visitor in town Wednesday.

C. G. Fink, of Port Matilda, was a business visitor, in town Wednesday.

John Bathgate, of Lemont, transacted business in Bellefonte Wednesday.

John Greene, of Philadelphia paid Bellefonte a visiting and also Milesburg.

Christian Back, one of Unionville's well known citizens was in town Wednesday.

Col. W. Fred Reynolds departed Wednesday on a business trip to Philadelphia.

Mrs. Linn Bottorf and children of Curwensville, are visiting friends in this place.

Robert Cole arrived home Friday night from a business trip to Lock Haven and Mill Hall.

William P. Brew, of New York City, transacted business in Bellefonte last Saturday.

James Cornelia formerly of Bellefonte but now of Punxsutawney is in town to attend court.

Francis Musser, of Altoona, will spend a few days with his brother Lincoln Musser.

Fred Stewart son of Rev. Stewart of State College is visiting at the home of Wm. Carl of Pleasant Gap.

Dr. Edith Schad and two children, Mary and John, spent Sunday with friends in Pine Grove Mills.

Miss Thomazine Potter returned home Tuesday afternoon from Baltimore, Md., where she has been attending school.

Mrs. Wilson I. Fleming left Wednesday for Williamsport to attend the funeral of her cousin, Clarence Fleming.

Mrs. Matilda Barry, who has been visiting in Bellefonte for some time past, left for her home in Harrisburg Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Larimer